CHEERS GREET THE PRESIDENT AT COLUMBUS

Only Short Stops Made and Train Speeds Through Kentucky.

BEARS TREMBLE IN MISSISSIPPI

Two Carloads of Arms and Ammunition Await Illustrious Party of Hunters.

BRIEF STAY IN PITTSBURGH

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, Nov 12.—President Theodore Roosevelt made a 15-minute stop in Columbus this afternoon en route on his hunting trip in the south. When his train entered the station great crowds of people were massed on the platforms overlooking the trainshed and the tracks, and he was given cheer after cheer.

As the president swung himself down from his car he was greeted by Dr. Washington Gladden, the noted divine, who congratulated him on the stand he had taken in the troubles in the anthracite field. Dr. Gladden and the president held quite a long conference.

As the president looked about over the crowd he espied little 5-year-old Elma Robinson perched high on her father's shoulder, waving her hand. The president forced his way through the crowd until he reached the little girl. He shook her by the hand, asked her name, and as he patted her cheek said:

"I have several little girls like you at home."

After shaking hands with the engineer and fireman, who left the train at Columbus, and congratulating them on the run from Dennison, he said a word to the trainmen who were to take him to Cincinnati, and boarding his private car the train pulled out, amid the cheers of several thousands of people.

Speeding Through Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—President Roosevelt is speeding down through Kentucky tonight on his way to Smedes, Miss., about 25 miles north of Vicksburg, for a four days' bear hunt. The place selected for the hunt is some miles from the railroad, and is in the region which was formerly the favorite hunting ground of Gen. Wade Hampton. Gen. Hampton owned a plantation in this vicinity and hunted black bear in the cane brakes with horse and hounds. Before the war he is said to have killed more than 50 bears in a single season, some of them with a knife.

Years ago the president and Gen. Hampton planned a hunt in this region, but it was never made, and when President Stuyvesant Fish of the Illinois Central proposed the present trip, the president readily accepted.

The president, however, does not anticipate the pleasure of killing a bear so much as the pleasure of a few days' complete recreation in the woods.

Promises New Experience.

Hunting bear with horse and hounds will be a new experience for him. If a bear shall not be secured, it will not be the fault of Mr. Fish. He has arranged to have one of the best packs of hounds in the Mississippi delta at the camp.

The president's trip across Ohio today was pleasant but uneventful. Crowds were waiting at almost all the stations. At Dennison the president made a few remarks. He said:

"Gentlemen and Ladies: I want to thank you very much for coming here to greet me, and to say that I appreciate it. I only wish that I was not always afraid of some accident happening to the small folk. You know the problem of the little apples in the middle of the barrel. The little folk are just like that, always come in the middle."

VICKSBURG, MISS., Nov. 12.—Two cars of hunting apparatus, guns, ammunition, etc., are sidetracked at Smedes station, awaiting the arrival of President Roosevelt tomorrow morning.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 12.—The president a train reached here at 9:50 o'clock tonight, and although a stop of only 10 minutes was made, the president was accorded a hearty welcome.

Brief Stop in Pittsburgh.

President Roosevelt spent 15 minutes in Pittsburgh yesterday. He and his party reached Union station at 10:30 a. m., and stopped while engines were changed on their special train.

Detectives and policemen were at the station. When President Roosevelt saw them he turned and walked in the opposite direction, to the far end of the trainshed, and beyond. He stopped for a moment and shook hands with one of the trackmen. Trainmen crowded over to see the president and to everyone of these he gave a nod and greeting, much to their delight.

As President Roosevelt started to board his car he came face to face with Lieut. Garret Crossan of the Pittsburgh police force. A broad smile illuminated the features of the chief executive, and he thrust out his hand and shook it with such a vigor that the lieutenant winced. As the train pulled out the president stood on the rear platform and raised his hat, smiling and bowing to the applauding crowd until the train disappeared.

Trainmaster David Steele of Altoona came to Pittsburgh on the special to see that all went right. The conductor was S. L. Cowie and the engineer Jerry Gilchrist, two trainmen who have probably hauled more special trains bearing presidents and other distinguished men than any other two railroad men in the country. L. Faust and S. J. McKelvey were the brakemen and W. C. Wareham the fireman for the train en route to Pittsburgh.

SUBMARINE BOATS ARE SUCCESSFUL

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A special from Greenport, L. I., to the World says: "The naval board which is inspecting the Holland submarine torpedo boats today witnessed the trial runs of the Adder and Moccasin running on the surface and in the intermediate condition, which is termed awash. Despite a strong wind and heavy sea the Adder made eight and eighteenths knots when running light. Running awash eight knots were made, while only seven are required."

SEVEN SOLDIERS DIE OF CHOLERA

Disease Suddenly Cuts Down Infantrymen Near Manila.

OTHERS TAKEN ILL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Manila, Nov. 12.—Cholera made its appearance yesterday among the men of a detachment of the Fifth infantry, which is stationed here. Seven men have already died and a number of others are seriously ill.

The detachment had been placed on guard along the Maraquina river, whence Manila receives its water supply, as it was deemed necessary to protect the stream from possible pollution. The cholera developed while the men were on this duty.

It was believed that cholera had entirely disappeared from Manila, and its reappearance has created feelings of apprehension.

Gen. Miles, who is making a tour of the archipelago, was given a reception and banquet at Iloilo, island of Panay, yesterday. The general delivered a short address, in which he expressed sympathy with the people in the afflictions which had come to them with the war and the cholera. He said he hoped for an early improvement in their affairs. From Iloilo Gen. Miles proceeded to Jolo.

The further decline in the price of silver has forced the government to raise the rate of exchange to $2.50 Mexican for $1 gold. The cheapening of silver has resulted in increasing the loss of the government and all other holders of silver. The instability of the present currency is seriously damaging business and the members of the civil commission and representatives of commercial interests in the islands will unite in making a strong plea to congress for the establishment of a non-fluctuating Philippine currency.

WIDESPREAD HAVOC WROUGHT BY VOLCANO

Many Lives Lost in Guatemala--Government Suppresses News.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The steamship Newport, from Panama, brings particulars of the recent eruption of Mount Santa Maria in Guatemala. According to the officers of the Newport, the destruction of life and property has been immense. The necessity for relief ships is urgent.

The coffee plantations in the districts of Costa Cuca, Chuva, Reforma, Palmar, Costa Grande and Kolhuitz have been buried seven feet deep in volcanic ashes and debris. Thousands of cattle have been destroyed and the loss of human life is thought to have been large.

When the Newport was at Champerico the officers found the people of that port panic-stricken. The steamship Acapulco, bound south, arrived at Champerico while the Newport was there, and carried to San Jose de Guatemala all the passengers that could crowd aboard.

Details from the scene of the greatest damage were hard to get. Kock, Hagumann & Co. offered $2,000 to any person who would go to their Miramar plantation in Costa Cuca and bring them news of conditions there. When the steamship Newport sailed this offer was still standing, no man having been found who dared to go into the ash-covered interior.

President Cabrera of Guatemala has resorted to the most stringent means to prevent particulars of the extent of the damage from reaching the outside world. Cable messages are strictly censored and the people most interested in the afflicted districts are finding the greatest difficulty in getting the most meager reports.

The Newport brings news of the total destruction of the towns of Palmar, San Felipe, Colombia and Coatepec. These places are completely buried in debris from Santa Maria. Retbahalen, Mazatenango and Quesaltenango have so far escaped with little damage.

ITALY MAY TAKE MASCAGNI'S PART

Premier Zanardelli to Investigate Troubles With His Managers.

COMPOSER IS HAPPY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Nov. 12.—Maestro Mascagni is at the Touraine, resting after a strenuous bout with numerous lawsuits and a trip through the poor debtors' court. The composer deplored the "apathy" of the Italian consul here and sent a telegram to the Italian ambassador at Washington. The envoy, in turn, handed the matter over to the Italian premier, by cable.

Although Mascagni did not ask this, the premier, Zanardelli, interested himself in behalf of his countryman and Mascagni tonight received this cable dispatch:

"I shall personally interest myself in your troubles. Investigation will be made under my supervision. Kindly write me instructions."

Besides this, the Italian ambassador at Washington, De Blanche, will be here tomorrow to unravel the composer's many troubles. Mascagni, being unable to speak English, is greatly handicapped and is proving a good thing for the lawyers all around.

Tonight an interview with him was had through an interpreter. He expressed himself thus:

"Today I sent a cable dispatch of thanks to my country's most noble premier and to him explained my predicament. His action was not solicited, which makes my gratitude a thousand fold greater than if I had asked his aid. When the noble premier gets my cable message he will understand the situation as well as if he were on the ground. He will feel more indignant at my outrageous treatment than even do I, for he represents the might of Italy. The ambassador, too, will sympathize with the persecuted Mascagni.

"I shall, I know, suffer no more indignities at the hands of my enemies. La Tribuna erred in saying I had asked intervention. I am, of course, delighted, and I assure you it gratifies me highly to learn that my country has not forgotten her loyal son in the hour of his deep misfortunes. My premier's action heralds the coming of the dawn."

ROME, Nov. 12.—Signor Prinetti, minister of foreign affairs, is awaiting the receipt of a report from the Italian embassy at Washington before acting in the Mascagni affair. United States Ambassador Meyer has not been asked for an explanation. The charge of apathy brought by Mascagni against the Italian consul in Boston is regarded here as without justification, and an outcome of the musician's ignorance of the fact that an Italian in the United States is entirely subject to American laws.

SCHWAB GIVES BUILDING.

Donates $25,000 Structure for New University in Blair County.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The directors of the University of Southern Pennsylvania, at Martinsburg, Blair county, made the announcement today that Charles M. Schwab will erect a building for the use of the university. The plans, which have already been drawn, indicate a structure that will cost $25,000.

The university was established a year ago and the main building, a magnificent brownstone, is nearing completion. Collegiate work has begun with a large number of students under the direction of President E. J. Gwynn.

Mr. Schwab was born and spent his boyhood days at Williamsburg, near Martinsburg.

FAVORS CANAL TREATY.

Colombian Minister of War Says Congress May Be Summoned.

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Gen. Fernandez, the minister of war, who has just recovered from illness, has resumed his direction of affairs. Regarding the isthmian canal negotiations, Gen. Fernandez said this in an interview for The Gazette:

"I am favorably disposed toward entering into a treaty with the United States. If necessary, congress will be convened for that purpose as soon as circumstances permit it. Colombia's interests must be safeguarded and her sovereignty must not be impaired."

ARLUND IS BENT UPON THE DUEL

He Says He Will Go After Wetmore If Challenge Is Not Answered.

SWEDE GOOD SHOT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Louisville, Nov. 12.—Peter Arlund arrived here this morning from St. Louis, and after a consultation with his wife saw several reporters, to whom he declared that his wife knew the circumstances of his protecting a woman at the Planters hotel in St. Louis and approved his course throughout.

Arlund asserts that the woman at the Planters hotel was not registered as his wife, and was there on her own business, while he was there on his. He says he means to stand by everything he has said or done.

"I will give Wetmore a reasonable time to answer my challenge and then," he said, "if he does not accept, I will go after him. I am going to St. Louis next week."

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Col. M. C. Wetmore, who came to Kansas City last night after receiving a challenge to a duel from Peter Arlund, who assaulted him in the Planters' hotel, has been in consultation today with Mayor Reed and ex-Police Commissioner Robert L. Gregory, who are his personal friends.

Col. Wtemore refused to discuss the challenge except to admit he had received such a document at the Union station in St. Louis last night as he was departing for this city.

Ex-Commissioner Gregory said tonight: "There will be no duel. The mayor and myself have discussed this matter with Col. Wetmore. All three of us agree the matter is deplorable. Col. Wetmore has said he is a bad shot and he learned that the other fellow is a Swede and a good shot, and he objects to his rival for these three reasons. The mayor and myself are to be his seconds in case of trouble. We are thinking something tonight of taking out a restraining order."

Col. Wetmore departed tonight for St. Louis.

MARRIAGE BROKER GETS MRS. LANGTRY'S REFUSAL

He Wanted Her for a Baron Customer, Who Sought a Fortune for His Title.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The fourth member of European nobility who is shown by evidence collected in this city to have been a client of the London marriage broker, and who signed an agreement to pay $10,000 for the broker's services, is Baron Eberhard von Danckelmann of Muritz, in Mecklenburg. He was willing to confer the title of baroness upon any woman who could bring him $250,000 as a compensation rather than a dowry.

Baron Danckelmann, who is about 40 years old, went to London in December, 1899, to be handled by Capt. Pokorny, the marriage broker. He is handsome and quickly made friends for himself in society.

Mr. O'Brien, Capt. Pokorny's solicitor, who is in Auckland, says that one of the several ladies who were approached was Mrs. Langtry. A favorable answer was hoped for from her. It is said she meditated upon what was said to her, and then replied that she appreciated the compliment, but that she would not become Baroness Danckelmann.

CLEARS AT TOLEDO FOR GALVESTON

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 12.—The new steel tank steamer Toledo, built by the Craig Shipbuilding Company of this city, for the Sun Company of Pittsburgh, cleared direct for Galveston, Tex., today to engage in carrying crude oil from the Beaumont field to the Sun Company's refinery at Philadelphia. It has a capacity of 1,000,000 barrels.

MOVE TO PUT M'CANDLESS OUT OF JOB

Larkin's Friends Stirred Up Over the Reservoir Scandal.

DIRECTOR'S ACTION THOUGHT ILLEGAL

His Tenure of Office to Be Attacked When New Governor Is Inaugurated.

LARKIN FULL OF FIGHT

The scandal regarding the leakage of the new Highland reservoir may lead to Director McCandless losing his official head. The director is criticised for approving the estimates for the construction of the reservoir and declaring the reservoir to be sound, in spite of his admissions and the evidence that the basin is leaking.

The supporters of Controller Larkin declare that they will have Director McCandless punished for approving what they allege to be a fraudulent piece of work. They admit they cannot do anything in this direction, however, until the new governor is sworn in.

The new state executive will be in a position to compel the recorder to remove the director. One of the parties involved in the controller's defense announced that proceedings against the director would be taken if he carried out his declared intention of taking the reservoir off the hands of the contractors and releasing them from the payment of penalties amounting to $146,000 for delay in the completion of the work.

Controller Larkin claims to have evidence that the department of public works is aware of the leaks and that the information came to the department's notice through the regular channels.

Director McCandless was asked yesterday when the reservoir would be turned over to the city. "When it is inspected and found to be in a satisfactory condition," he answered. Formerly the director announced that the reservoir would be in shape to be turned over to the city on November 15, or sooner.

Controller Larkin has not yet decided to obey the order of the supreme court directing him to pay the Mercantile Trust Company for work done on the new Highland reservoir No. 2 and he may suffer himself to be taken into court on contempt proceedings rather than to submit to what he firmly believes to be an imposition upon the city.

Yesterday the controller received advices from many prominent citizens, which were all of the same character: "Don't pay the bills," was the substance of every word that came to him. He was assured that he had the moral and financial support of the people and that they were ready to stay with him to a finish. "I have the courage to do what I believe is right, and I wish to say that the door is not open for improper claims, or even a jar," said he. "Those who think that I have been sitting here doing nothing since the contractors refused to allow my engineer to inspect the reservoir are mightily mistaken. I know every move that has been made in connection with the construction of the reservoir."

AMERICAN BLOOD SHED ON ISTHMUS

Rebel Fire Kills One of Bogota's Crew and Injures Other Men.

SHIP'S AWFUL REPLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Panama, Nov. 12.—The first American casualties of the revolution occurred yesterday. The Colombian fleet captured a boat having on board correspondence showing the whereabouts of two revolutionary schooners loaded with provisions. The government warships headed for the place, and on arriving there the Bogota, manned by its American crew, commanded by Capt. Marmaduke, lowered two boats with armed men, but as the schooners were aground they waited until high tide to attack them.

Meanwhile the revolutionists were discovered in ambush close to the beach, and when the Bogota's boat pulled ahead the second time, the rebels opened fire on them, killing the ship's armorer, Richard Rage of Washington, and wounding George Walker, who was shot through the legs. A seaman named Clark and Lieut. Vasquez also were wounded, but not seriously.

The Bogota and Chucuito then opened fire upon the enemy and killed every man in sight. One shot fired at a group of 10 rebels who were most actively engaged in shooting at the boat's crew, killing every one of them.

Gunner Cross of the Bogota thinks that from 40 to 50 rebels were killed.

One of the schooners, the Helvetia, loaded with rice, was captured, but the first shot at the second schooner set her on fire and she was completely destroyed with her cargo.

The body of Kane will be buried here with military honors.

MOLINEUX CASE COSTLY.

Estimated That Both Sides Have Spent Half a Million Dollars In the Two Trials.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—It has been estimated that the trial of Molineux cost more than any other for a capital offense in any country where the English system of jurisprudence is in vogue.

The cost to the county of New York in the first trial amounted to $250,000, largely fees for handwriting experts brought from distant states, and for detectives who endeavored to trace Molineux's movements.

The defense expended about $75,000 in the first trial. It is estimated that the total on both sides for the two hearings will foot up nearly $500,000.

TO KEEP ON FIGHTING FOR DEEPER RIVER

Plans for Improvement to Be Laid Before Roosevelt.

MONEY RAISED FOR EXPENSES

Parkersburg Convention Subscribes $14,950 to Continue Agitation.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

By EDWARD C. SYKES,
Staff Correspondent.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 12.—At the closing day's session of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, held today, $14,950 was raised to defray the expenses of the organization for another year, the executive council took steps to at once visit President Roosevelt to lay the resolutions adopted by the convention before him and the 550 delegates pledged themselves to carry the agitation for a nine-foot stage of water on the Ohio river to the end. No more representative body of business men ever sat in any convention hall and the work done by the convention, every delegate says, will tell for good.

The entire delegation this afternoon took charge of the Jackson hotel upon their return from a trip down the Ohio river on the steamer Ben Hur, Capt. Charles Cramer, and cheer after cheer was given with a vim for the hospitable people of this thriving community. The trip on the steamer was made to Blannerhasset island, about all the distance that the vessel could go, owing to the shallowness of the water at points below the island. The history of old Blannerhasset and how the plot against the government was hatched was explained by prominent Parkersburg citizens. The delegates drank from the famous old well. On the return trip short addresses were made by Congressman Dovener of West Virginia and Congressmen Stanley, Kehoe and Sherley of Kentucky.

Delegates Paraded Streets.

When the boat landed at the Parkersburg wharf the entire delegation fell into line and marched through the streets of the town to rag-time music. This ended the festivities and there was a general scramble among the Pittsburgh and Beaver county delegations to start for home. They left on the 5 o'clock express. Congressman-elect J. Burke Porter was enthusiastic over the work of the convention. Said he: "There has been a general solidifying for future work. The association is moving rapidly and such outbursts of enthusiasm for such a worthy object as the improving of the Ohio river is bound to tell for good. It has my undivided support."

One of the most prominent men at the convention was Capt. W. B. Rodgers, representing large business interests. In speaking of the good work accomplished he said: "It was the most representative gathering of men that I ever saw, being the largest in interests and in numbers."

Capt. W. L. Sibert, the Pittsburgh government engineer who attended the convention as the guest of that body, said: "Such manifestations of purpose will no doubt do much good for the objects the association are endeavoring to secure. There certainly was no lack of enthusiasm."

George H. Anderson of the chamber of commerce is highly elated. "It was a grand rally for a nine-foot stage of water from Pittsburgh to Cairo, and the determination of the citizens of the Ohio valley to carry the project to a successful conclusion meets my hearty approval because it is a public benefit of untold magnitude. The good that Pittsburgh will derive from the completion of a system of locks and dams on the Ohio cannot be overestimated."

Pittsburgh Men Honored.

Pittsburgh was highly honored on the various committees. Captain Rodgers and Mr. Anderson were both members of the resolution committee and Captain Rodgers introduced quite a number of sections in the resolutions addressed to congress. Captain Rodgers originated the idea of a nine-foot stage of water in the Ohio river. When he brought up the matter two years ago at Cincinnati it was fought; now the entire Ohio valley is for it.

A resolution commending all newspapers for the interest they have taken in river improvements was passed.

The association elected the following officers: President, John L. Vance; treasurer, James D. Parker; secretary and general manager, E. P. Wilson; vice presidents, George H. Anderson, the Hon. Holliben Quarrier, Albert Bettinger, Col. W. W. Hite, Captain C. J. Murphy and Captain Marion Wright. The executive council includes the president, secretary, vice presidents and the following additional members: J. D. Parker, E. C. Clibbs, Captain Oscar F. Barrett, Captain Paris Brown and Captain J. F. Ellison.

The speakers at today's session were Captain John F. Drave and S. S. Cochrane, the latter the president of the Allegheny Improvement association. Captain Drave attacked the railroads in the same manner that he made reference to them at the Kittanning convention. He made one exception, singling out the Wabash, whose executives he paid a high compliment. The captain was introduced as the "youthful member of the convention." He spoke of the awful freight congestion on the railroads and said that Pittsburgh would lose her industrial supremacy unless she got relief. He preferred to a corporation having $1,500,000 capital refusing to locate in Pittsburgh because no assurance could be given that freights would be moved if the plant located there. He said that the improvement of the rivers was the one great solution of the trouble. The captain was loudly applauded throughout his speech and at times was interrupted by cheering.

Ohio River First.

Mr. Cochrane told of the needs of the Allegheny river and said that the interests of that stream were identical with those of the Ohio. J. B. Finley, chairman of the resolution committee, reported the resolution to congress as published in today's Gazette, and it was adopted. As was forecasted, the resolution made no reference to tributary streams, except that when improvements are made that they be improved with a nine-foot stage. The idea is to first get the Ohio river im-

THOSE LIVING IN FIX'S HOLLOW VIEW WITH ALARM THE RESERVOIR LEAKS

Mrs. Charles Freyer, who has lived at the base of the hill on which the new Highland reservoir is built for five years says that no such streams of water ever poured down the sides of the elevation as those she now looks at with alarm and which did not make their appearance until water was pumped into the new basin and the leaks developed. She says there has been but one spring on the slope, which is piped off, so that there is no mistaking it for a leak. Mrs. Freyer further says that the largest leak has been constantly growing larger since its first appearance. She and her family live in almost hourly fear that the great basin may burst and ingulf the hollow in which they live. Mrs. Freyer and her children spend all their spare time sitting on the hillside watching the big leak, so that if it does assume dangerous proportions they can prepare to move. A photographer for The Gazette snapped them yesterday as they were watching the leak.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 12.

Two new booms for places under the Pennypacker administration were developed today.

Col. Ned Arden Flood of Meadville is being urged for the deputy attorney generalship. He would accept the place if tendered, although not ready to place himself in the position of seeking the honor. This much the colonel, who was here today, admitted to The Gazette correspondent.

Friends competent to speak for him went further. They declared that Crawford county, having so splendidly redeemed itself in the late election by electing a Republican senator and three Republicans to the house is entitled to recognition.

Dr. T. L. Flood, the colonel's father, has been in several losing fights at Republican state conventions. He was a tentative candidate for lieutenant-governor at the last state convention and had Elkin won it is probable that the doctor would have been given second place; but hope deferred makes the heart grow weary, and Flood, senior, has decided to eliminate himself in the future from political consideration. That he is willing that his son shall cash any political promissory notes in his favor is quite well understood.

The Floods Never Sulked.

It is truthfully said by the boomers of the Crawford county man that the Floods never sulked; that they have always supported the ticket, and the colonel did work in the late campaign for which he was warmly commended by Chairman Quay.

Friends of the present deputy attorney general, Mr. Fleitz, say he is not a candidate, and that had he intended being one the Scranton landslide, which caught Congressman Connell as well as himself, would have influenced him to the contrary.

J. Allen Leeds of Philadelphia is now the most prominently mentioned probability for secretary to the governor, the office now filled by E. C. Gerwig of Allegheny. Mr. Leeds has a state-wide acquaintance, having been reading clerk of the state senate for the last two sessions. He is a special favorite with Chairman Quay, who placed him in charge of the Pennypacker stumping tour, a position he held when Col. Quay made his tour two years ago, also when the ex-state treasurer, James Barnett, made his swing round the circle.

That the office of secretary is one that the governor usually fills without outside suggestion is well understood. This phase of the matter is emphasized by the backers of Mr. Leeds, who assert that the governor-elect is personally very fond of his stumping conductor.

Mr. Leeds' Competitor.

Col. John W. Frazer, registrar in the Philadelphia bureau of surveys, is the only one mentioned for this place besides Mr. Leeds.

An odd story given circulation today by Democrats is that Thomas S. Bigelow of Pittsburgh is to be appointed secretary of the commonwealth; that Secretary W. W. Griest is to take I. W. Durham's place as insurance commissioner, and W. L. Shaeffer of Delaware for attorney general. Whether Mr. Bigelow is to accept a cabinet portfolio or not cannot be authoritatively told at this end of the line; but Mr. Durham will hold his present position.

Representative Ward R. Bliss of Delaware county today said he was not a candidate for the speakership. "At present," said he, "I guess it is an open question who will succeed Marshall as speaker—a question that could be answered, perhaps, by some of those now in Florida, but by no one else."

CHESTER D. POTTER.

POLICE JUDGE BEATEN BY ZANESVILLE'S MAYOR

Magistrate Ejected from Private Office of the City's Executive.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 12.—Mayor James L. Holden administered a thrashing tonight to Police Judge Frank L. Reed. The affray occurred in the private office of the mayor in the City hall, where the mayor says he found the judge in company with Mrs. Charles Wendell and the door locked from the inside with a spring lock.

Mrs. Wendell was arrested two evenings ago for being on the streets in an intoxicated condition at midnight. The mayor says one of his police officers notified him that the judge and the woman were in his private office.

"I went to the door," said he, "and found it locked and the room dark. After knocking several times Judge Reed opened the door. I accused him of using my office for improper purposes and ordered the police to arrest him. As I attempted to take hold of him he resisted and I was forced to use my fists upon him. The police interefered or I would have given him a terrible thrashing. When the police interfered he ran downstairs to his own office. I will make a formal charge against him tomorrow."

The mayor's right hand is badly bruised from the beating he gave Reed. Reed hurried to his home and denies himself to callers. Only a few months ago Holden, Reed and Chief of Police Tracey fought in police court, and Judge Reed fined the mayor for contempt.

Died of Injuries.

The coroner was notified at an early hour this morning of the death of Joseph Lorenz, a Slavish laborer, 21 years old, at the West Penn hospital. Lorenz was injured in the coal mines at Negley, Pa., on August 8 last, by a fall of slate. His home is unknown.

GOOD POOL PLAYER IN SPITE OF WEIGHT.

Bert Elmo, a young colored man of Sharpsburg, is called the "boy wonder" by his friends, for two reasons. He weighs 610 pounds and can beat everybody in the neighborhood playing pool. Bert keeps a grocery store in Main street and has the counter down the middle of the room, so that he can easily go behind it. He is 17 years old. The combined weight of his parents, three brothers, two sisters and himself is 2,300 pounds.

SPECIAL ENVOY GOING TO CUBA

Secretary Hay Sends Gen. Bliss to Investigate While Treaty is Pending.

CUBA NOT SO ANXIOUS

Shortage of Foreign Sugar Crops Convinces Her That She Can Get Along Without Reciprocity Until She Gets Better Terms.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—An important conference on the Cuban reciprocity treaty was held at the war department today, the participants being Secretary Hay, Secretary Root and Gen. Tasker Bliss. Mr. Bliss was called in at Secretary Hay's suggestion, because of his expert knowledge of the existing Cuban tariff.

Before the conference Secretary Hay had talked on this subject with Senator Cullom, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, and with Senor Quesada, Cuban minister here.

The draft of the reciprocity treaty which has been under consideration so long by the authorities at Havana has not left that city; so, officially, the United States government continues in ignorance of the extent and character of the changes, if any, which President Palma may desire to make in the treaty.

From other sources, it is known that the cardinal objection of President Palma to the treaty as it stands is the insufficient rebate of 20 per cent proposed to be allowed on Cuban imports into the United States, and Secretary Hay's purpose is to ascertain, if possible, how far he can yield in that matter and still be able to rely upon the support of congress next session when the treaty is submitted. So far, his advices do not favor any increase of the rebates.

It is understood that the Cubans, too, are entirely unwilling to accept any small increase. In the face of a great shortage in the European crop and a rapidly rising market, they have acquired confidence in their ability to get along for an indefinite time without reciprocity with the United States.

Secretary Hay has decided that Gen. Bliss shall be sent at once to Cuba to investigate the industrial situation and the fiscal possibilities of the island; so it is improbable that, pending his return, the state department can advance the treaty negotiations in any way.

SITE NOT YET SETTLED.

McKeesporters' Favorite Lot for Postoffice Must Be Enlarged.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—A committee representing the councils of McKeesport, consisting of John L. Stration, A. R. Good and George Johnson, had a conference with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Taylor this morning regarding the proposed site for the federal building to be erected in their city.

The committee tendered to the secretary the southwest corner of Walnut street and Eighth avenue, containing about 14,000 square feet of land. Mr. Taylor said the department would require about 1,000 square feet additional. The committee told him they believed that could be secured. Mr. Taylor replied that if it is secured he would accept that site, but if that much land could not be secured there, he would accept the site at the corner of Olive and Locust streets if it contains the required 15,000 square feet.

The committee returned to McKeesport tonight to try to secure the needed 1,000 feet for the Walnut street site.

The postoffices at Fillmore, Center county, and Indian Creek, McKean county, Pa., have been ordered discontinued on November 20.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—W. Godfrey Hunter has resigned as United States minister to Guatamala and Honduras. The president has accepted the resignation and has selected Leslie Combes, at present United States pension agent at Louisville, to succeed Dr. Hunter.

TAKEN FROM GRAND JURY

Sudden Turn in Larceny Proceedings Against Attorney Byers of Greensburg.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The proceedings in the cases brought against Attorney W. S. Byers of Greensburg by his grandniece, Jacob Byers of near Tarr, who alleged that moneys and securities to the amount of a quarter of a million dollars had been misappropriated, were brought to a sudden termination this afternoon when Judge L. W. Doty ordered two indictments withdrawn from the further consideration of the grand jury.

The Greensburg attorney was indicted on two charges of larceny and one charge of larceny by bailee. The first bill of indictment to reach the grand jury was ignored. When the disposition of the indictment was reported District Attorney J. E. B. Cunningham made a motion in court asking that the remaining indictments be taken from the grand jury. He stated that in his opinion a complete case had been made out and claimed that the three indictments related to the same transaction. The motion was vigorously opposed by D. S. Atkinson, counsel for Byers, the claims being made that after the bills had gone to the grand jury they could not be withdrawn.

James S. Moorhead, counsel for the plaintiff, declared that Jury Commissioner John C. Stough was the constant companion of the defendant, and that he seemed to make his headquarters in the defendant's law offices.

Judge Doty, after a brief comment on the circumstances, ordered the indictments withdrawn. The bills will be considered by a subsequent grand jury.

Maj. H. K. Tyler was elected chief marshal of the parade, which will consist of two divisions, one from the First and the other from the Second legislative districts. GIVING UP HOPE.

Searching Parties Return After Finding No Trace of Railroad Superintendent Egan.

SPOKANE, WASH., Nov. 12.—The hope of finding Supt. Egan of the Great Northern railroad is diminishing. All the larger searching parties have now come in without finding traces of him.

Experienced woodmen, under pay of the railway company, are expected to keep up the search for 10 days more and there are also individuals who are searching in the hope of gaining the reward offered.

STRANGE TALES TOLD OF RAJA YOGA SCHOOL

Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children Determine to Crush It.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

Through the combined resources of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and its kindred organization in San Francisco, every effort is to be made to wipe out of existence the Universal Brotherhood and Raja Yoga school of Katharine C. Tingley at Point Loma, Cal. This action was determined upon at a meeting of the executive board of the New York society.

One of the garrisoned grounds of the brotherhood, where all the "sun worshippers" conduct their affairs in the utmost secrecy, from the quiet precincts of the "Temple of Isis," where only the members of the "inner set" are permitted to enter, there has come knowledge of the treatment of the youthful pupils of both sexes.

Children given by their parents to Mrs. Tingley's care for education and moral guidance are given sleeping quarters in tents. Twenty of them, boys and girls, are bundled together on a bunk, and when thus huddled together, a girl of 14 years visits each of the children and ties his or her hands together and then fastens them about their necks. Such is the story told by a grandmother whose daughter is now with Mrs. Tingley—crazed or hypnotized, the grandmother believes—who rescued her grandchild through habeas corpus proceedings in the supreme court of California.

BLOOD STAINS FOUND ON PERRY'S CLOTHES

Murdered Girl's Jewelry Also Traced to Sweetheart of Accused Negro.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 12.—The police spent today investigating the past life and movements of George L. O. Perry, the young negro charged with the murder of Miss Clara A. Morton at Waverly.

Tonight they found Perry's sweetheart and got her to exhibit jewelry she had received from Perry. Among the trinkets was a gold chain, which belonged to Miss McPhee. Private marks on the chain proved the identification, and the jeweler who sold it to Miss McPhee later described his own upon it. The chain had been given by Perry's sweetheart to her sister.

The officers next secured letters written by Perry to his sweetheart and one to her sister, and in the latter there is reference to a chain and the injunction not to say a word about it.

All of Perry's clothes were taken from him today because an officer thought he detected a blood spot on a shirt sleeve. Perry admitted the spot was blood, saying he had a bleeding tooth. Tonight all the negro's clothing at home was seized. Some of this, especially a coat, has stains which look like blood.

Costly Private Memorial.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lillian Barnes Allen, who has a town house in this city and owns Roncocoas farm in New Jersey, has let contracts for the erection of a memorial, to cost between $50,000 and $75,000, in memory of her mother, brother and sister, who are buried in Woodlawn cemetery.

DRIVER OF HEARSE HAD TO HURRY TO THE WEDDING

"A Skeleton at the Feast," or, A Hearse at the Wedding," was the title of a mystery play that was enacted in Rankin yesterday morning. A Hungarian wedding celebration was scheduled to start at 9 o'clock at a house in Second street. The women of the neighborhood, who were taking a keen interest in the event, watched the guests assemble and just at the appointed hour were horrified when a hearse instead of a carriage, driven at a rapid pace, clattered up the street and stopped in front of the "house of joy."

The driver dismounted and hurried into the house. The affair caused a sensation on the street and the prospect of a funeral instead of a wedding changed the tone of conversation throughout the neighborhood. A half-hour later, as the guests were leaving, the driver appeared, crawled upon his seat and the outfit disappeared in a cloud of dust, to the amazement of the spectators.

It developed that the hearse driver, who is employed by a Braddock undertaker and was to be best man, was unable to get off for the day and merely took an early start for a funeral, stopping for the wedding on the way. The female portion of the neighborhood is still predicting evil for the young couple because of the ominous sign that mystified the street during the ceremony.

FIGHTING FOR DEEPER RIVER

provements under way and then let the tributaries come in for their share of improvements in the general river and harbor bills. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this association requests the congress of the United States to provide at its adjourned session for a survey of the Ohio river from the Little Miami to Cairo, with the object of preparing plans and estimates for the improvement of the river between the points named, so as to provide nine feet at low water; that the making of this request be put in the hands of the executive council with full discretion as to procedure.

The executive council held its session aboard the steamer Ben Hur. Secretary Wilson was instructed to at once arrange for a date for an audience with President Roosevelt in order that the council can visit him before he sends his coming message to congress. By their visit the council hopes to be able to have the president make some reference to internal improvements, and will be satisfied if he incorporates in his message what he said at Cincinnati, where in an address he spoke of the worthiness of improving the Ohio river. The committee hopes to be able to leave for Washington in a few days.

Liberal Money Subscription.

When the call for funds was asked to carry on the work of the convention, there was a liberal response. Cincinnati pledged the largest amount, but Pittsburgh was a close second. The subscriptions follow:

Mr. Gibbs, president of the Business Men's League, pledged in behalf of Cincinnati organizations, $6,000; Tell City, $125; Commercial club of Louisville, $300; Wheeling board of trade, $200; Evansville, Ind., $200; Mr. Holt, Beaver, $25; New Martinsville, $50; Bradys Bend, Pa., $25; Builders' Exchange, Beaver county, $25; Sistersville, $350; Parkersburg, $250; Moundsville, $25; Parkersburg chamber of commerce, $200, and business interests, $500; Gallipolis, $250; Huntington, $375; Zanesville, O., $25; Marietta, $250; Portsmouth, $300; Catlettsburg, $100; Maysville, $185; Ripley, $30; Cairo, $100; Covington, $100; Newport, $25; Waterway Journal, St. Louis, $25; Madison and Albany, each $25; Paducah, $100; Owensboro, $250. Many other towns gave lesser amounts, the total footing $14,950 or almost three times the amount pledged at last year's meeting. The convention adjourned shortly before 1 p. m. to meet at Evansville, Ind., next year. Col. Vance and Col. Wilson leave for their homes tomorrow morning. Many of the delegates are still in the city, and tomorrow morning nearly all will go home.

Congressman Dovenor, one of the two congressmen at present at the convention, paid his fare home this evening. In the crowd his pocket was picked and all his passes and valuable papers were taken, but he lost no money. The pocketbook was found tonight. State Senator E. J. Redmond of Mason City, W. Va., also had his pocketbook stolen and lost about $50.

SCOTTISH MASONS CONFERRED DEGREES

Meeting of Princcs of Jerusalem Opened Second Session Yesterday.

The second session of the golden jubilee of the Scottish Rite Masons, held yesterday, was largely attended. Arthur B. Wigley presided. The forenoon was occupied by the meeting of the Pennsylvania council, Princes of Jerusalem, which conferred the 15th and 16th degrees. There was a large class of candidates for these degrees. The degree work was in charge of James Findlater of Detroit, Mich., who is the head of the Michigan council, Princes of Jerusalem, and Joseph Mayworm, also of Detroit.

In the afternoon Pittsburgh chapter of Rose-Croix conferred the 17th and 18th degrees. At 4 o'clock the session of the Pennsylvania consistory, S. P. R. S., 33d degree, began. GREAT GENERATORS.

Engineers' Society Inspects the Largest Electric Power Machine Ever Made.

The Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania last night saw some of the work in progress at the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company on the greatest electric generators ever made. Each generator is of 10,000 horse power, and there are 16 of them, eight for the Manhattan Railway Company of New York and eight for the New York Rapid Transit Company.

The machine which the engineers saw stands 41 feet high and is an alternating generator of 11,000 volts. In the portable tool work an iron floor plate costing $60,000 and provided with holes and slots is employed, and to this the portable tools and the machine is attached.

The engineers spent two hours at East Pittsburgh, most of it at the inspection. About 50 officials of the company were present, including R. D. Beatty, assistant to the manager of the works; C. G. Tyler, superintendent; Arthur Hartwell, sales manager; A. A. M. Mattice, chief engineer, and G. B. Dusinberre of the sales department.

S. F. Scott, chief electrician of the company, and president of the engineers' society, spared no pains to explain everything. The plan of the inspection was proposed by Chester B. Albree, chairman of the reception committee of the society. It is intended to give the engineers such trips monthly hereafter.

Several of the ex-presidents of the engineers' society were in the party, Dr. John A. Brashear, Thomas H. Johnston, W. L. Scaife, Emil Swensson, W. A. Bole, Henry W. Fisher, Col. T. B. Roberts and William Metcalf. At the close of the inspection a collation was served in the company's dining room.

SHARP TURN TO PATCH UP PEACE

Window Glass Jobbers Agree to Take All Output of Associated Producers.

FURTHER MIX IN AFFAIRS

Independent Company Is Not Yet a Party to the Agreement, but Deal May Serve as Lever to Force It In.

The window glass conference on in Pittsburgh for several days culminated last night in an adjustment of differences, which on their face look rosy, but may in fact only lead to more complications. At a conference held in the offices of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, the heaviest of the jobbers, the executive committee of the jobbers and representatives of the American and the Federation Window Glass companies entered an agreement whereby the jobbers are to take the entire output of the factories for this blast, the price being stated as continuing the discounts of the 500,000-box order placed some time before the opening of the fire. This makes the discount on manufacturers' lists 88 per cent.

The Independent Glass Company, which all last blast fought the other concerns in the open market, was not represented at the final conference and cannot be considered as a party to the agreement, although the other interests hope to make it so, and the contract of yesterday will serve as a lever to force it.

Limit Put on Production.

The scheme will naturally involve a limit being put on production and the Independent company has so far contested this. Another complication is promised in that the few window glass jobbers not members of the association will be allowed to shift for themselves for their glass or buy it from the associated jobbers. They will have available, in case the Independent Glass Company goes into the agreement, the output of the newest selling agency of H. B. VanCleve, secretary of the Independent Glass Company under its former organization. This amount is of 110 pots. VanCleve is a jobber but not in the association.

At the close of the conference yesterday afternoon, Secretary E. J. Phillips of the American Window Glass Company put out this statement:

"The executive committee of the National Window Glass Jobbers association submitted a proposition to take the output of the associated manufacturers, which met with the approval of the manufacturers present, who agreed to recommend its adoption to the associated manufacturers."

Independent Not Bound.

The associated manufacturers so far are the American and Federation companies, and these only were represented at the meeting yesterday. The Independent Glass Company is in no sense bound to the agreement and the two companies represented will have to get the approval of their executive boards. There probably will be no trouble over this, but cooperation of the Independent company is another matter. The move now will be to convince the Independent company that it had better take its share of the jobbers' orders, or with the jobbers loaded from the concerns the Independent company will be without a market. Yet there is nothing tangible to prevent the jobbers from buying glass where they please. So far the Independent company has only consented to meet the price of the others.

W. T. Gray, president of the jobbers, freely admitted last night that the Independent company was not represented, but added that it had been the two days before.

"Can the Independent company then be considered a party to this agreement?"

"Oh, yes, yes," was the reply.

MAYOR CLAIMS VETO OF MEASURES STAND

McKeesport Executive and Councils Dispute About Validity of Two Bills.

Mayor Black and the McKeesport councils have a controversy regarding the validity of two ordinances which the mayor vetoed and councils passed over the veto. One of the bills in dispute appropriated $75,000 for a sewer in the Eighth ward and the other gave $2,500 to E. H. Johnson for injuries sustained while in the city's employ.

Mayor Black vetoed the ordinances for legal reasons, and called a meeting of councils to pass upon his veto. Councils laid both bills over until the succeeding meeting, which was held last Monday night, and then passed them over the veto by a unanimous vote.

The mayor claims that the time limit allowed councils to consider his veto expired before the bodies took action, but councils take a contrary view. The city solicitor has been asked to decide the question. If he sustains the veto, the bills cannot originate again during the life of the present councils.

TO MAKE ROOM FOR COMING HOLIDAY STOCK.

This store always leads.
Has its own way of doing things.
We always know just what we can do.
We have never undertaken a clearance sale of this kind that was not a glorious success.
We knew we could make room for them when we gave contracts for four hundred pianos especially for the holiday season.
And we bought them because we know we could sell them.
This immense stock is already coming in. Seventy-five of the most beautiful instruments we ever saw are already received (and some already sold), and the fast freights are hurrying the others forward.
This is just what we expected.
Now we are carrying out the other part of our plan. We must clean our floors to make room. We had not the slightest doubt about the appreciation of our plan on the part of the people. The first day of this great sale proved we had not expected too much. These great piano bargains are going out so fast that we will not need to keep this sale up many days. We have set no time limit. If you get here too late don't blame us. Remember, this is a sale for a purpose. We know that purpose will be accomplished. We may not know the day, but when we have provided ample space for showing off our new stock these offerings will be withdrawn.
Do you want a Piano?
Do you want the best?

Do you want to save $100?
You can do it by buying now.
Think of it—how extraordinary—all the above named Pianos at 20 per cent discount for cash,
10 per cent discount for time.
And these discounts apply to every new piano in this house.
On all pianos remaining of a recent purchase from a retiring dealer we will make a reduction of $150 to $200 from regular prices—and they are new ones, too; never off the floor; just as they came from the factory.
And on a lot of used pianos which are in perfect condition, we make prices ranging from $150 upward.
Don't miss this chance.
It will not be open long.

M'AFEE TALKED OF FOR RECORDER

Many North Side People Favor Him for Murphy's Place.

LINING UP FOR FEBRUARY

Flinn Followers Show a Disposition to Make a Last Ditch Fight—Citizens Are Perfecting Party Plans.

A determined effort will be made to have Robert McAfee, recently deposed from the office of director of the department of public works in Allegheny, put forward as the candidate of the Citizens party for the recordership of Allegheny.

Ever since McAfee was removed by Murphy, he has been working in the interests of the Citizens party. Mr. McAfee is popular and his nomination would be approved by many influential people.

Last night Mr. McAfee said: "I do not know anything about my candidacy for the Allegheny recordership. I have not even heard my name mentioned in connection with the office, and certainly have never announced that I am a candidate."

David B. Oliver, who has been mentioned, stated yesterday that he would not be a candidate for the place.

Ex-Mayor James G. Wyman, who was "ripped" out at the time the new charter went into effect, is openly a candidate for the recordership nomination at the hands of the Citizens party.

The indications are that William Flinn and some of his political associates will make a "last ditch" fight in the coming recordership fight in Pittsburgh. Many of Flinn's former adherents have, since the election, shown a disposition to become regular Republicans. Rumor had it yesterday that John Wanamaker will soon take a hand in Pittsburgh politics, in order to have Flinn again placed in the "watch tower." Wanamaker's bitterness toward Senator Quay is still intense.

The Citizens party leaders are still mapping out plans for the coming recordership campaign. When the Citizens new executive committee is selected and organized a candidate for recorder will be selected. Thomas S. Bigelow seems perfectly satisfied with the outlook.

Frank Fuller, the Fayette county Republican leader, who is a candidate for secretary of the commonwealth under the Pennypacker administration, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. He seems confident that he will be named for the position.

OBJECT TO HOSPITAL

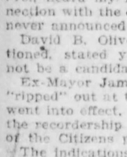
Thirteenth Ward Citizens Go to Harrisburg With Their Municipal Hospital Grievance.

Director Leslie and Solicitor Carnahan went to Harrisburg yesterday to appear before the secretary of the commonwealth in the hearing of the protests of Thirteenth ward citizens against the erection of the municipal hospital on the old site. The delegation of citizens is headed by W. C. McEldowney.

The city solicitor will contend that the decision of the supreme court in the Allegheny General hospital case gives Pittsburgh the right to rebuild the municipal hospital on the present site.

The citizens who reside in the neighborhood are prepared to present the claim that the law prohibits the erection of hospitals in built-up portions of the city, and will advance some new arguments.

THE WEATHER.



Fair.

Despite the fact that rain had been predicted for yesterday, the day was ideal. The fresh winds and the bright sunshine gave it the outward semblances of a day in early spring. Fair and cooler weather, with fresh northeast winds, is promised for today.

The maximum temperature yesterday at 11 o'clock was 71, and the minimum, at midnight, was 65. The Gazette weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's corner, registered the following:

Pittsburgh People to Profit By Big New York Deal.

In connection with the leasing by Spear & Co., 908 and 910 Penn avenue, of the big New York furniture and carpet establishment of Robert C. Gregg, New York city, there are busy times ahead for Spear & Co.'s Pittsburgh store. The big stock of furniture and carpets secured in New York at a very advantageous figure will be sold in Spear & Co.'s Pittsburgh establishment. The remodeling of the New York store and the extensive improvements decided upon will take some time to complete, and the New York establishment will not be ready for business until about February 1. In the meantime the splendid New York stock, which Spear & Co.'s representatives had secured, will have to be disposed of through Spear & Co.'s Pittsburgh store. The stock is one of the finest in the country. The goods represent the very best styles shown in New York city, and owing to the unusual circumstances under which these goods were secured, Spear & Co. are able to offer them to the people of Pittsburgh at much below the New York prices. A good portion of the stock has already been shipped from New York, and as soon as possible after its arrival in Pittsburgh these splendid up-to-date goods will be placed on sale at bargain prices by Spear & Co., 908 and 910 Penn avenue.

CHURCH MAY REMAIN ON ITS PRESENT SITE

Obstacles to Removal of Edifice from Smithfield and Sixth Avenue.

The project to remove the First German United Evangelical church from the corner of Smithfield street and Sixth avenue to Smithfield and Strawberry alley and to lease the corner for a business block may fall through owing to legal obstacles alleged to exist in the original grant of the land. The church congregation holds all the ground bounded by Smithfield street, Strawberry alley, Sixth avenue and Mountour way, under a grant from William Penn and his heirs.

By the terms of the grant, it is said, the corner at Smithfield and Sixth avenue was given for church purposes only, the congregation having the privilege of leasing the remainder of the property. The church committee, composed of three trustees and four representatives from the congregation, met last night and discussed the matter.

They were unable to decide whether the location of the church could be rented under the long-term lease asked by those from whom offers have been received. John Wanamaker, the Philadelphia merchant, wants the corner site for a department store, it is said, and that H. C. Frick and others also want it for an office building.

The committee decided to refer the matter to an attorney. Members stated after the meeting that it would be several weeks probably before the committee would be ready to lay any proposition before the congregation.

MERGERS NOT NEW.

Former Attorney General Griggs Declares Railroads Have Long Been Buying Competing Lines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The hearing in the suit of the United States to test the alleged transfer of control of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads to the Northern Securities Company was continued today in this city. The hearing today is for the defense.

Former Attorney General Griggs presented a statement that for years prior to 1896 many of the principal railway companies of the United States had got control of competing lines and that this fact was reported to the government and known to congress at the time of the passage of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Solicitor General Richards objected to the acceptance of official reports of railroads offered in support of Mr. Griggs' statement, but they went to the record, the special examiner having no power to rule.

INDEPENDENTS REPLY.

Declare Lawlessness Is Countenanced by Union Officials.

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 12.—The answer of the independent operators of the Lackawanna and Wyoming region to the statement of President Mitchell was made public tonight. They take the same grounds regarding recognition of the union and the weighing of coal as President Baer and other operators. Regarding the declaration of the miners that labor unions improve the morals and discipline of their members, this comment is made:

"Prior to the advent of the United Mine Workers of America it was considered bad form to kill or maim a citizen who attempted to sell his labor, and the vast number of brutal murders and beatings during the last five months show that the teachings of the United Mine Workers have brought about such moral conditions that its members believed themselves justified in these acts. Officers of the union justified this course by furnishing bail and counsel for those who have been guilty of these atrocious acts."

Dr. Bruce is a widely known minister and has served important churches. He is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college and of the Western Theological seminary.

KEENE WILL FIGHT.

Denies That He Exceeded Legal Speed Limit in His Automobile.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—There are indications of a spirited legal battle when the case of Foxhall W. Keene comes up before Justice Franklin at Oyster Bay next Tuesday.

Mr. Keene, who was arrested for driving his automobile above the legal speed limit of 20 miles an hour for country roads, declares that his machine was geared too low to attain any such speed, and he will fight the case. On the other hand, the Long Island Highway Protective association, which is responsible for Mr. Keene's arrest, announces that it is prepared to prove the charge.

WILL NOT LEAVE GAS BELT.

Steel Corporation Preparing to Supply Hoosier Plants With Coal.

RICHMOND, IND., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—It is said now to be assured that all the Indiana plants owned by the United States Steel Corporation are to be left in the state, whether natural gas is found in sufficient quantities to supply the factories with fuel or not.

The steel corporation has leased 5,000 acres in the best part of the Sullivan county fields and will begin at once to mine coal for its factories throughout the state.

Military Wedding.

LANCASTER, PA., Nov. 12.—Lieut. Robert C. Davis, Seventeenth United States infantry, professor of tactics at the West Point Military academy, and Miss Ruby Caroline Hale of this city, were married this evening in St. James' Episcopal church. It was a military wedding and a brilliant social affair.

Mrs. Clemens' Health Improved.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Friends of the family of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) said today that reports of Mrs. Clemens' illness had been exaggerated. She has been ill for several months, but her condition, which was not critical at any time, has shown improvement recently.

Lady Henry Somerset Sails.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Lady Henry Somerset sailed for England today on the St. Louis. "There is nothing that I can say before leaving and I will not make a formal report to the organization of which I am a member, on my return, though I will probably speak on what I have observed in this country," she said.

BIG CROWD HEARD "TRINITY TRUE"

Judge Buffington's Song Made a Hit With Victor Herbert's Music.

A BRILLIANT AUDIENCE

Alumni of Trinity College Attend Grand Opera House to Hear the Song Which Was Dedicated to the College at Hartford.

Last night was one of pride for Trinity college at Hartford, Conn., when the representative alumni in this city gathered in the new Grand opera house to hear the first rendering in Pittsburgh of Judge Joseph Buffington's song, "Trinity True." The opera house orchestra was directed by Victor Herbert, who set the music to Judge Buffington's lines, and the loyal student spirit was shown in the applause that greeted the singers.

It was a brilliant audience that assembled to pay homage to Trinity and to hear the song. The lobby of the theater and the proscenium boxes were decorated with long streamers of blue and gold, the college colors, while the members of the stock company wore ribbons of gold and blue silk. Mr. Herbert's music caught the popular ear at once, and after the play many left the theater humming the refrain.

The song was sung between the second and third acts of "Christopher, Jr.," by an octet from the Mozart club, under the direction of J. P. McCollom. The singers included H. B. Brockett, A. J. Elliott, G. A. Kraber, John Hibbard, E. E. Dermitt, H. E. Shaler and A. C. Smith. When Mr. Herbert and the octet appeared a generous round of applause broke forth, which was repeated after each verse and called for an encore at the close.

There were several box parties in honor of the occasion, and through the orchestra were many persons wearing the colors of Trinity. In the boxes were Judge and Mrs. Buffington, Victor Herbert, Judge Archibald of the United States circuit court, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Robinson, Congressman W. H. Graham, Col. W. T. Lindsey, James I. Young, M. K. Coster, W. H. Coster, Mr. and Mrs. William Metcalf, Miss Cassidy, Miss Edna McKay, A. H. Anderson, Dr. R. E. L. Anderson, the Misses Meade, Mrs. Henry B. Preston, Seymour Preston, Mrs. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Stone, E. D. Smith, Miss Lillian Smith, Miss Helen Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. HIGHWAYMEN REMOVE VICTIM'S WOODEN LEG

Farmer Was Robbed and Left to Be Dragged to Death.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 12.—Drugging their victim into insensibility, highwaymen robbed John Hull, a well-known farmer of New Florence, and then removing his wooden leg, lashed up his horses and left him to be dragged to death. Hull was returning to his home last evening and was met by a man who asked to ride a short distance. Hull accommodated him, and the horses had just started on a gallop when the stranger produced a bottle and asked Hull to take a drink. Hull took a swallow and immediately became dazed.

Two highwaymen met the horses in a turn of the road and Hull was dragged from the wagon and robbed of $50, his watch and several valuable papers. Hull was placed on the bottom of the wagon, his wooden leg having been first removed, and the robbers took to their heels. The horses ran for over half a mile, when the wagon was upset. Hull was thrown to the side of the roadway and badly bruised. He is suffering greatly from exposure, as he was not found until late last night.

Seven Thousand Acres of Groves Bought in Southern California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 12.—C. C. Eppers of Chicago, who is in this city, is authority for the statement that a corporation known as the Southern California Trust Company, with a ready capital of $4,500,000, has secured an option on 7,000 acres of orange groves in this and adjoining counties, and proposes to absorb a heavy portion of the Southern California citrus belt interests.

"The object of this syndicate investment," said Mr. Eppers, "is systematically to improve the orange industry of Southern California and bring the citrus belt into the highest possible state of cultivation by scientific planting, growing and shipping. All of the oranges produced by the trust will be shipped east under one brand."

For Shooting an Italian.

W. W. Doley and John Stubblefield, colored, were arrested last night and locked up in No. 7 police station, suspected of being implicated in the shooting of Peter Veizura, an Italian, on Tuesday night in Grace street. Veizura was walking to his home when he was confronted by two negroes, one of whom pulled a revolver and shot Veizura in the arm. The arm was amputated.

HIGHLAND GOLFERS WALLOP PITTSBURGH

Champions Won by a Score of 22 to 0—Sensational Golf by J. D. Duff.

The champion Highland Golf club team yesterday defeated the Pittsburgh Golf club six on the Highland course by a score of 22 to 0. The match was one postponed from November 5, and closes Highland's record for the season with 10 victories and no defeats. E. L. Allen played with Highland for the first time. The scores:

G. A. Ormiston	3	F. G. Kay	0
W. C. Fownes, Jr.	1	W. R. Blair	0
C. B. Fownes	7	G. M. Laughlin, Jr.	0
E. L. Allen	3	W. L. Klug, Jr.	0
W. C. Fownes	3	L. Dilworth	0
H. C. Fownes	5	Herman Griffith	0
Total	22	Total	0

The Holiday cup competition, postponed from election day, will be played Saturday on the Highland course. On Friday the women members qualify for a new cup, the eight lowest scores being eligible for match play next week.

The Logans Ferry course of the Westmoreland Country club is busy with match play this week. In the final match for the Knowlton cup, M. A. Preston defeated W. E. Collier, 2 up. On Saturday he will meet F. S. Viele, the holder of the cup from the last contest. The trophy must be won three times. The final 36-hole match for the club championship will also be played Saturday. In the matches decided this week, E. E. Giles defeated C. C. Preston 5 up and 4 to play. D. D. Pendleton beat F. M. Stefner by 2 up; M. A. Preston lost to F. S. Viele by 1 down in 19 holes, and R. C. Long beat E. C. Darling 4 up and 3 to play.

Some of the most sensational golf offered on any course this season was developed by J. D. Duff, the star golfer of the Edgewood club, yesterday, when he covered the nine holes in 31 strokes. The former amateur record, held by G. W. Wurzell, was 33, while the professional, Nichol Thompson, never did better than 32. Duff's figures for the different holes were 3, 4, 3, 4, 3, 4, 4, 3, 3—31. Duff was playing with J. H. Hill.

GUNDLING ABUSED BY HIS NEIGHBORS' BOYS

Resident of Oakland Square Makes Informations in Wholesale Numbers.

Fifty or more boys, belonging to well-to-do families in Oakland Square, Fourteenth ward, have been arrested upon informations made before Alderman Charles C. McGovern of the West End by Frank Gundling, a resident of the square, charging them with larceny, assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

The boys are accused of stealing a hitching post from the front of Gundling's house, assaulting him with missles of various kinds and otherwise disturbing the peace. It is said two young sons of Gundling, who recently moved into the neighborhood, made themselves unpopular with the juvenile football team in Oakland Square, and that this feeling against the Gundlings was manifested in a forcible manner on Halloween night. According to Gundling the football aggregation lifted his hitching post from the ground and gave it to the driver of a delivery wagon going by. They rang his door bell repeatedly, and when he rushed out of the house to attempt to capture some of the offenders, he was met with a fusilade of vegetables, sticks and other articles.

The young miscreants scampered away and Gundling made wholesale informations in order to get the guilty parties. The mothers and sisters of the boys declare their intention of attending the hearings tonight before Alderman McGovern, in the West End, and from all indications the alderman will have an unusually fashionable audience.

Token of His Dead Boy.

James Rowan was committed to the Allegheny county jail last night on a charge of assault and battery by Alderman Oyer on the information of L. C. Wright. At the jail the guard found a small stone in Rowan's pocket. Rowan begged that it be returned to him, as it was taken from the grave of his son, who was killed and buried in the Philippines. The stone was returned.

Trolley Line Projected.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Newtinsburg and Murraysville capitalists have organized a company for the building of a street railway from Trafford City to Murraysville. A charter has been applied for and the extension of the line to Apollo and New Kensington is a possibility. The charter members are Rush D. Hiller, W. S. McClure, John Stewart and Calvin Good.

Garbage Nuisance at the Rocks.

It is likely that the health authorities of McKees Rocks and Esplen will take active steps to have the banks of Chartiers creek cleaned. Both sides of the stream are covered with refuse and the stench is bad. Neither borough has any means of disposing of the garbage except by throwing it in the creek.

This medicine by strengthening the stomach enables it to do its work properly. It will purify the blood, promote assimilation and restore health.

THE ANGELUS PIANO PLAYER AND ITS POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

It is creditable to produce an article equal to other things in the same line, but to have something far superior to ALL others is the aim of the manufacturers of the Angelus Piano Player.

There has never been a time when the Angelus occupied second place. It is the original piano player and admittedly the best. And the Angelus is much more than a mere piano player. It has an orchestral attachment by means of which the most exquisite orchestral effects are reproduced. This feature alone renders the Angelus unique. No other piano player possesses any such device, consequently none other has so much to commend it. For this reason the Angelus is found in the homes of cultured musical people everywhere.

However, even if you were to take away the orchestral attachment, and retain only these piano playing devices, you would still have the best piano player on the market.

Like every other thing in this world that is the best of its kind, the Angelus costs a little more than other piano players. But its superiority is so manifest that those who can afford the best are never satisfied with any player except the Angelus.

The near approach of the holiday season suggests the appropriateness of the Angelus as a Christmas gift. And in anticipation of a large demand, an especially interesting collection of Angelus Piano Players has been assembled at Hamilton's old reliable music house. Some of the cases are veritable works of art. The sales last year were the heaviest in the history of the business, and present indications point to even a larger number of sales this season than last. You would find it advantageous to select an Angelus now and have it reserved for Christmas delivery.

The present variety of grand and upright pianos at Hamilton's is worthy of even the most fastidious connoisseur. The white mahogany and satinwood cases are a revelation in general effect and in refinement of design. The stock includes the best piano in the world—the famous A. B. Chase, also the brilliant Fischer, the Schumann, Smith & Barnes and Hamilton pianos.

Prices range from $200 up, and you can pay for your instrument weekly or monthly, as you desire. These payments will be arranged to suit your convenience.

COURT FOUND THE VOTE WAS PADDED

Suspicious Discrepancy in the Returns from Twenty-seventh Ward.

CITY COUNT COMPLETED

The Total Vote Cast in Pittsburgh for Sheriff Was 51,409. O'Neil Leads in Majorities With 9,282.

The official count of the votes in the city of Pittsburgh was completed yesterday. For sheriff the total number was 51,409. The largest majority for any candidate was that given to J. Denny O'Neil over George M. von Bonnhorst, which was 9,282.

The court had the election board of the First district of the Twenty-seventh ward before it to explain suspicious figures in the returns of the vote cast for congressman. The total vote for governor in the district was 187, while for congress Dr. A. J. Barchfeld had 133, Brown 93 and 2 scattering, a total of 228. The Pattison vote was 133, the same as Barchfeld's, and the returns appeared as though they had been marked over an erasure.

The board could not explain satisfactorily where the 40 extra votes for congressman came from, and that number was taken off the count for Barchfeld. The judges were severe in their language toward the election board, and gave orders to have the ballot box carefully watched. Judge Rodgers said a like condition existed in other districts, but not to such a great extent.

The complete vote of the city for county officers was as follows:

Sheriff—James M. Fahnestock, 30,107; Arch Mackrell, 21,302; Fahnestock over Mackrell, 8,805.

Recorder—J. Denny O'Neil, 30,284; George M. von Bonnhorst, 21,002; O'Neil over Von Bonnhorst, 9,282.

Register—George W. Stengel, 30,393; F. W. Edwards, 21,134; Stengel over Edwards, 9,259.

Clerk of Courts—F. X. Barr, 29,780; R. M. Kopp, 21,389; Barr over Kopp, 8,397.

Treasurer—D. F. Collingwood, 30,262; George W. Foster, 21,116; Collingwood over Foster, 9,066.

Controller—R. J. Cunningham, 30,223; W. E. Thompson, 21,061; Cunningham over Thompson, 9,262.

Commissioners—J. A. Clark, 29,877; James Evans, 29,586; J. Carson Mercer, 21,826; W. W. Murray, 21,040.

It is not thought the final count of the county will be ready before tomorrow. But one legislative district was completed yesterday. It was as follows:

Fifth legislative district—*Benjamin Weaver, 21,675; *John B. Yellig, 21,675; *W. U. Willett, 21,655; *Henry Nichols, 21,441; Joseph A. Armstrong, 14,263; George M. Hosack, 13,954; Henry Hall, 13,902; C. F. Heselbarth, 13,920.

Those marked with an asterisk were elected.

TWO MORE RESIGN.

Discharge of Telegraph Operators Followed by Withdrawals.

As a result of the dismissal of operators by the Western Union Telegraph Company Tuesday night, two other operators yesterday resigned, and more resignations will probably be handed in today.

W. R. Moss and Charles Wrenn, who resigned yesterday, claim they were not fairly treated by the management, and their resignations were caused principally by the discharge of the other telegraphers.

Robert Goldbeck, one of Chicago's foremost pianists and teachers, to whose skill and judgment hundreds of fine pianists owe much of their excellence, writes:

Gentlemen—Demanding of a piano, as I do, certain qualities not often obtainable, I am greatly pleased to discover these in the A. B. Chase grand and upright pianos. These consist first, of an adaptability of tone not easily classified for the purpose of artistic interpretation; second, the faculty of shading by mere touch and varied finger pressure; third, responsiveness of action, and, fourth, beauty of tone. When these are present, as in the A. B. Chase pianos, it is gratifying and a pleasure to play and practice.

FIGHTING SPEAKEASIES AT TRAFFORD CITY

Private Detective Alleges That His Life Has Been Threatened.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 12.—The fight against the Trafford City speakeasies is taking a sensational turn. Leo Wedener, a private detective of Trafford City, caused the arrest of Patrick and Stephen Gerrie, charged with running a speakeasy in the new town. The case was heard today before a local justice. The prosecutor had no witnesses and and charged that parties behind the prisoners drove his witnesses out of the town under threats and after they had been discharged from their jobs. The Gerrie brothers had a number of witnesses and the case fell through.

Detective Wedener then swore out a warrant against Michael Youmens for perjury, alleging that he swore falsely in the case.

The private officer also had George Williams and Daisy Nickiesen, colored, brought here under arrest for running a speakeasy at Trafford City. Wedener alleges that the new industrial town is overrun with people who are engaged in the illegal traffic. He states that his life has been threatened on account of running down the cases.

ANNEXATION FAILED.

Lively Controversy Decided by the Washington County Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The Washington county grand jury today decided that a portion of Carroll township, this county, should not be annexed to the borough of Donora. In the hearing of the case before the grand jury a controversy was provoked which promised to become serious, and in the excitement Attorney Robert W. Irwin, representing those protesting against the annexation, gave the lie to Attorney T. Fiem Birch, representing the petitioners.

The petition was signed by a number of persons who claimed that they owned property in the territory in question. It developed at the hearing that the Union Steel Company, which had owned the property, had conveyed it to the alleged property owners for the nominal sum of $1, on the condition that the deeds be returned to the company if the property was annexed. Manager Percy Doner of the Union Steel Company so testified before the grand jury and this caused the excitement.

It is alleged that the Union Steel Company desired to annex the property in order that they might secure the right-of-way to lay tracks for a road to connect their different plants in the borough, as they controlled the borough council. The question of annexation has created considerable excitement in Donora, and the majority of the property owners were opposed to the scheme.

Gorham Manufacturing Company Receives Highest Award.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Cable advices received here from Turin, Italy, were delivered in this city this evening, bringing the gratifying intelligence that in one department at least America has carried off the highest honors. The Gorham Mfg. Co. of New York has received the gold medal or the highest award bestowed on silverware at the exhibit of finely wrought silver. The competition between the nations was exceptionally keen. England, Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and France vieing with each other and with the United States in every effort for the honors in every department of the applied arts. The Gorham exhibit included over a hundred pieces, ranging from specimen forks and spoons to elaborate centerpieces and loving cups of Martele and Athenic ware. Combinations of silver and cut glass were also shown, and it is said that the whole exhibit, which occupied one of the most prominent places in the building, was little short of a revelation to European art craftsmen.

OFFICER PROSECUTED FOR BOMBARDING STORE

Merchant Dodged Bullets Intended for Supposed Burglar.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 12.—"Murder! Help! Police!" yelled Jacob L. Caplan of Ellwood at 2 o'clock this morning, as he dodged about the counters of his store to escape 42-caliber bullets that came crashing through the show windows from the street. They were fired by a special night watchman, William Carlin, who mistook Caplan for a burglar.

Caplan sleeps in the rear of his store. Long after midnight he was awakened by a noise and hurried out with a lighted candle to investigate. He found that several cases of canned goods had fallen from a shelf and he began to place them back in position. While he was doing so Officer Carlin passed. Carlin was employed two weeks ago because of the frequent robberies at Ellwood. He thought that he was dealing with a burglar and fired four shots. The bullets whizzed about Caplan's head, but did not wound him.

The shots aroused many Ellwood people, who rushed out to see what the trouble was. Caplan appeared at the door of his store, very angry and excited. He accused Officer Carlin of attempting to murder him. The officer said he had first called out to the man within the store. As the latter did not answer, but seemed to be dodging about the counters, he supposed that it was a burglar and fired.

Today Caplan went before Justice S. Y. Douda of Ellwood and swore out a warrant against Officer Carlin.

NEW CASTLE OFFICIALS AT WAR WITH RAILROADS

Street Commissioner Ordered to Remove Crossing and Piers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 12.—The city is at war today with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Pennsylvania railroads over alleged encroachments upon city properties. Last night the highways department ordered Street Commissioner Magee to tear up the recently laid Pennsylvania crossing on Montgomery street, for which no permission was secured. Magee is also to give the Lake Erie 10 days in which to remove the piers for its single track bridge in Lacock street. If the abutments are not out in 10 days the city, it is asserted, will demolish them.

The ultimatum of the highways department is the result of long delays on the part of the railroads in meeting the demands of councils in making improvements and in alleged overriding of city ordinances in the laying of tracks.

The city officials say the Pennsylvania tracks will come up this week from Montgomery street irrespective of the force required to do it.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

SUIT AGAINST DETECTIVES FOR ARRESTING A WOMAN

Case of Dr. Anna B. Schultz Against Roger O'Mara, Charles McGovern and Richard Kelly in Federal Court.

The case of Dr. Anna B. Schultz of Chicago against former Superintendent of Detectives Roger O'Mara, Detective Richard Kelly and former City Detective Charles McGovern, for $15,000 damages for false arrest, on March 7, 1901, was taken up in the United States circuit court yesterday.

The plaintiff, who is a mulatto, was arrested in Pittsburgh by McGovern and Kelly on a telegram from the police of Washington, D. C., asking the local authorities to detain a woman who stole diamonds in Washington. Going through a Baltimore & Ohio train the detectives saw the plaintiff, arrested her and sent her to Central station on suspicion. She was accorded the ordinary treatment of prisoners, against her protest, and released after eight hours' detention.

Attorney William H. Randolph is representing her interests and Attorneys Clarence Burleigh and Edward Seymour represent the officers. When the case was called Attorney Randolph asked the court to refer to his client as Dr. Anna B. Rollins, as she is married.

The plaintiff was stylishly attired, and is a handsome woman.

Her attorney said that McGovern slapped the woman on the back, remarking, "Hello, Laura." She resented the treatment and they insisted she was "Laura Jackson."

She referred them to a card and her baggage, where her name appeared, for identification, which she claims they ignored.

In referring to her treatment in Central station her attorney said she was compelled to submit to a search of her person of a most embarrassing character. While the matron performed her work, he said, the door stood ajar and McGovern paced back and forward past it.

The plaintiff was placed on the stand and exhibited her physician's diploma from the Jenner Medical college in Chicago and a state certificate of Illinois, qualifying her to practice medicine. Court adjourned at this point.

In the same court, in the case of W. H. and Rebecca Fosha of St. Marys, Pa., against the Western Union Telegraph Company, a verdict was agreed upon, without trial, for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,500. The plaintiffs' son was killed by the breaking of a pole he had climbed.

Before Judge Archbald the suit of the McKeesport Saw Mill Company against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company occupied the afternoon. The plaintiff seeks to recover $600 for a coal boat that broke its moorings, lodged against the false work of the Fort Wayne bridge on the Allegheny river for a period of a week, and was then destroyed by the railroad company as a matter of safety, the water being high and the ice running rapidly.

The case of Frick & Lindsay against Edward J. Hingston and others was taken from the jury and will be decided by argument on a question of law.

In the suit of Dr. Alfred Feldman against Frank L. Slocum and the Gas Engineering Company, incorporated, a verdict was returned for the defendants. The case involved $6,713 74 damages.

The account of William R. Blair, referee in bankruptcy in Allegheny county, for the month of October, was filed in the United States district court. The accountant charges himself with $1,113 85 receipts, etc.

WM. COLLINGWOOD'S WILL

Business Interests Go to County Treasurer-Elect David F. Collingwood.

The will of William Collingwood was filed yesterday. The value of the estate is not given. It is directed that the homestead at Swissvale, and all of its appurtenances, be used by the widow during her lifetime, and at her death the entire estate, with the exception of a few special bequests, shall be converted into cash and the proceeds be divided equally among the 11 children.

The decedent's interest in Collingwood & Son goes to David F. Collingwood, county treasurer-elect, under terms and agreements now existing. Among the special bequests are $2,500 to each of the testator's daughters, Ella, Jane and Sarah C. Collingwood.

The will of Frank H. Busch of McKeesport was also filed. The value of the real estate is $42,000, and personal property, $4,053. The testator's money in bank goes to his daughters, and the residue of the estate is to be divided among all of his children.

By the will of Daniel Pfeiffer of Allegheny a $20,000 estate is disposed of; $300 goes to the testator's wife absolutely; she is to have the income of the remainder of the estate during life, and at her death it goes to her children.

By the will of Ruth M. Clifford of Allegheny, Clarence, a son, gets $250 and the residue of a small estate goes to Gillie Olunler, a niece. Attorney George J. Kambach represents the estate.

Letters of administration were issued to Bella D. Wolvington on the estate of Helen E. Wolvington, worth $11,250. Attorney J. L. Stentz represents the estate.

A partial hearing was held in the contest over the estate of John Charles of Allegheny.

SISTERS CHARGE FRAUD.

Equity Suit Filed to Restrain the Knights of Honor from Paying an Insurance Policy.

A bill in equity was filed by Mary and Ellen F. Malunney against Mary A. Malunney and the Supreme lodge, Knights of Honor, to restrain the lodge from paying the other defendant a $2,000 policy.

The plaintiffs say that their father, Patrick Malunney, who died July 19, 1902, was a member of the defendant order, and, it is said, possessed a benefit certificate in favor of the plaintiffs. It is charged that Mary A., with others, conspired to induce the plaintiffs' father, before his death, to substitute Mary A. as beneficiary. It is also said that Patrick Malunney was mentally incapable of transacting business, and that the new certificate was obtained by fraud and undue influence.

DRUG COMBINE NOW FORMED

About One Hundred Firms in the United States Have Formed United Drug Company

PITTSBURGH WILL BE REPRESENTED

Objects Are to Reduce Cost of Manufacture of Certain Remedies and to Buy Formulae Whenever a Successful Remedy Is Discovered.

The rumor current Tuesday to the effect that a powerful combination of leading retail druggists, affecting the entire retail business of the country, had been formed, was confirmed yesterday by Bernard May of the May Drug Company of this city.

This combine will be known as the United Drug Company. It was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey by the country's most prominent dealers in remedies, publicly known as patent medicines. Its purport is to reduce the cost of manufacturing many medicines now handled by the retail drug trade, and to purchase the formulae wherever and whenever a successful remedy unknown to the general trade is discovered. It is said that there are many such remedies existing which have been used for generations.

Trusted physicians have here and there all over the world discovered really marvelous cures for certain diseases. It is contended that many of the valuable prescriptions written by doctors could just as well be used for the healing of the thousands as for the healing of their own private patients. Thus these formulae would become a boon to mankind and a source of revenue to their discoverer. None but remedies proven to be exceptionally good in very many cases will be taken up or handled.

Mr. May states that the new organization will consist of some 100 of the leading druggists of America, but only one druggist in each city. The May Drug Company, Nos. 508-510 Market street, will be the Pittsburgh stockholder or representative.

The laboratories will be located in Boston. They will be more modern than any now in existence. The economic policy upon which they will be operated will enable the favored druggist belonging to the organization to resell to the consumers a medicine now costing from $1 50 to $2 00 for about 85 cents, as middlemen's, jobbers' and wholesalers' profits will be done away with. Each bottle or package put upon the market by the United Drug Company will be guaranteed to effect a cure or money will be refunded to the purchaser.

The capital stock of the United Drug Company is $500,000, and there is no "water" in it. The central offices of the corporation will be in Boston, Mass., in close proximity to its laboratories. A vast amount of money will be spent in newspaper and other advertising. In addition to the 100 stockholders located in the large cities, there will be associated with this corporation 400 of the leading retailers of the smaller cities.

By operating in this manner the United Drug Company proposes to place its products direct from the laboratory into the hands of the retailers.

The directors of the company are: E. D. Cahoon, treasurer William D. Riker's Son Company, New York city; E. L. Scholtz, president Scholtz Drug Company, Denver, Col.; James L. Demoville, president Demoville Drug Company, Nashville, Tenn.; E. R. Petty, Newark, N. J.; W. C. Bolton, president Bolton Drug Company, Brooklyn, N. Y.; George C. Lyon, treasurer Hall & Lyon Company, Providence, R. I.; Steven Hexter, president Public Company, Chicago, Ill.; James T. Wetherald, president Chester Kent & Co., Boston, Mass.; Louis K. Liggett, secretary Chester Kent & Co., Boston, Mass.

BANKERS CHEER THEIR CRITIC

Congressman Fowler Is Quickly Told That Convention Disagrees With Him.

TALK ABOUT CURRENCY

Ex-Comptroller of Treasury Dawes One of Chief Speakers. Committee to Consider Subject and Report to Next Meeting.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—The American Bankers' association today took up the discussion of the currency question. Congressman Charles H. Fowler spoke on assets, currency and branch banking. He discussed the features of his bill.

Congressman Fowler did not spare the bankers, but criticised them with a freedom which, however, won applause. He was given an ovation when he had concluded, although more than once when he asked if the convention did not agree with the doctrines he was expounding he was answered by cries of "No."

Former Comptroller Charles G. Dawes spoke on the necessity for a more elastic currency.

At the afternoon session J. J. Sullivan of Cleveland offered the following, which was adopted without objection:

Whereas, Experience has demonstrated the inadequacy of our present currency system, and believing that the best interests of the country demand a system, flexible as well as stable, be it

Resolved, That the American Bankers' association records its unqualified approval of the enactment of a law imparting a greater degree of elasticity to our currency system, making it responsive to the demands of the business interests of the country.

Resolved, That we favor the appointment by the president of this association, of a committee of seven members of the association, selected with reference to their ability and high character as bankers and their experience in monetary affairs, and representing different parts of the country, for the purpose of carefully considering the entire subject and report to the next meeting of this association.

A. J. Frame of Milwuakee called up his resolution, reported without action by the executive council, opposing in vigorous language the proposition for assets currency and branch banking.

Chairman Bigelow of the executive council, said the council had declined to act on the resolution because it did not believe it wise to place the association on record on that subject before an adequate solution had been offered.

The resolution was referred back to the executive council by a vote of 83 to 47.

Congressman C. A. Pugsley of New York delivered an address on "An Emergency currency," and William S. Payne of New York spoke briefly on the same subject. He commended the efforts of the secretary of the treasury to relieve the recent stringency.

100 LITTLE GIRLS WILL BE MADE HAPPY

Because Each of Them Will Have a New Dress Sunday.

This afternoon The Chronicle-Telegraph will tell all about a special lot of children's dresses—more'n a hundred of 'em—which will be the most important thing at "The People's Store" in the eyes of the mothers of little girls tomorrow. If you don't see The Chronicle Telegraph in the regular way, better invest a cent in the evening edition and learn how you can save two or three dollars, and secure for your little girl, if she's over 6 and under 12, a dress pretty enough for party and Sunday school wear, and yet costing so little that she can afford to make a school dress of it, if you like. These dresses are marked at prices ranging upward from 65c to $3.50—but get the whole story from the paper.

The Proper Desks

If it is true that a man should select his friend and his book with care, it is equally true that he should be careful in the selection of his Office Desk. Not only should he discriminate in the matter of quality, but he should study his own peculiar needs.

There are cases where a Roll Top Desk is indispensable—others where a Flat Top is preferable. It is well to take all things into consideration before buying. And that's one reason why it pays to come to this store. For every worthy style of Desk is found here—and more variety of every kind than elsewhere.

The fact is, those who require office furniture of any kind serve their own interests best when they come to headquarters—where the trio of style, quality and value-for-price holds forth.

U. S. STEEL COMPANY ORDERS 20 STEAMERS

Will Be 52 Feet Longer Than Anything Now on the Great Lakes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DULUTH, Nov. 12.—In line with its expressed hope to increase the steel ore carrying fleet the Pittsburgh Steamship Company has called for bids for the building of 20 steel steamships, to be 52 feet longer than anything at present on the lakes.

The ships will be 550 feet long, 55 feet beam, and 30 feet deep, and will carry 9,000 tons each. They will be capable of moving from Duluth to Buffalo 129,000,000 bushels of wheat in a lake season.

It is expected that when built these ships will use up about $10,000,000 of the $50,000,000 laid aside by the United States Steel Corporation for improvements. The steel corporation owns the Pittsburgh Steamship Company.

DIRECTORS ARE BUSY WIELDING THE AX

Many Men Are Discharged from Police Service for Political Reasons.

Directors Leslie and McCandless are busy wedding out all city employes suspected or known to have voted the Citizens ticket. Three employes in the fire bureau have received notices of their discharge since November 4, and many "white wings" in McCandless' department have been dismissed.

Discharged "white wings" allege that Director McCandless has been hiring foreigners who cannot speak English and are not entitled to a vote, in their places. It is claimed that this is a violation of the city charter.

John Caddock of No. 2216 Sarah street was one of the employes in the bureau of highways and sewers removed. He said the "white wings" had been dismissed because they voted and worked for the Citizens ticket. Caddock was in the bureau for several years.

Director McCandless said that none of the "white wings" were discharged outright, that they were only laid off for several days each week in order to keep the expenses of the bureau within the annual appropriation.

Both European and American Critics Praise the Steinway

No sensible American will ever admit that the members of the royal courts of Europe are possessed of a higher intelligence than are the people of this glorious country. Nor will any citizen of this country admit that Europeans have superior means of knowing the relative merits of musical instruments.

So when it is asserted, over and over, that the Steinway piano is the favorite with the nobility of Europe, the argument implied is simply this: That as such persons have ample funds at their command, and are obliged to maintain a high standard in artistic affairs, it follows that they will have the best piano that money can secure. Hence, their selection of the Steinway demonstrates that, in the opinion of the world's most competent judges, who are at the command of royalty, the Steinway is the pre-eminent piano.

The foremost critics of America discovered the Steinway's greatness even before Europeans learned of the excellence of this piano. But now the fact is acknowledged the world over, that the Steinway is the piano by which all others are measured.

And another fact worthy of consideration is this: The possession of a Steinway piano presupposes two things: First, that the person owning such an instrument has ample financial resources. Second, that he or she is determined to have only the best.

The fact is, the Steinway piano never could have been adopted the world over if it were not by far the most desirable piano produced at any price. Time has determined the place of the Steinway, and that place always shall be maintained by the manufacturers, whose sole aim is to produce the perfect piano.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Another lesson in monetary science comes to us from Manila, where the rate of exchange has been advanced to $2 50, Mexican, for $1, United States, on account of the further depreciation of silver. This would have created a fine condition of things in the United States if the Bryan idea had been allowed to prevail, putting the country on a silver basis. Business men in the Philippines are much embarrassed by the changing value of silver coins and are appealing to the authorities for a stable currency system. They want money that will be worth as much next week as it was last week; that can be depended upon to buy as much new stock at wholesale as it paid for at retail, with a little margin for the dealer. Silver does not meet the requirements.

In this connection it may be recalled that Mr. Bryan argued that silver depreciated in value because it was demonetized. He also averred that silver did not get cheaper, but gold got dearer; that silver had always been at a parity with wheat and corn and always would be. There has been no further demonetization of silver, but it continues to decline in value because the supply is constantly increasing and the cost of production is less. This is partly due to new methods and partly to the discovery of new ores that can be worked to better advantage. It is equally true that silver and wheat have parted company. A dollar of silver is worth about half a bushel of wheat. The change of relations between silver and corn has been even greater, corn having advanced more than silver has fallen. For a year corn has been really golden, though the bumper crop of this year is having its effect upon future quotations.

In all this the practical demonstration is that wheat, corn and silver fluctuate in value independently, without any relation to each other. A failure of the corn crop last year, coupled with an increasing demand caused high prices. A large crop this year will sell at lower prices. It is the same with wheat and with silver. The trouble with silver is that the crop has been increasing steadily ever since the discoveries in and about Leadville a quarter of a century ago, and it was a fortunate thing for this country that John Sherman secured the adoption of the gold standard by law a couple of years before the over-production of silver began to be felt. Wheat and corn are annual crops, vitally affected by weather conditions. Silver is a continuous crop, not affected materially by climate. The state of the market might regulate its production but for the fact that it is largely a by-product from the manufacture of lead, and the active demand for the latter increases the production of silver that is not needed in commerce or the arts.

It is hardly worth while refuting the Bryan theories as political arguments. Events have refuted every one of them effectually; as political levers they are dead; the people have repudiated and denied them at the polls. But it is of some avail to occasionally review the facts "lest we forget." At the present moment the free coinage craze appears the veriest folly to all save an unreasoning minority, but six years ago, just as the country was trying to emerge from disaster wrought by the free trade theory, it was a menacing peril. It is only now, free from the danger, that we can look calmly upon the continued depreciation of silver and discuss quietly its disturbing effect upon the currency and business affairs of our oriental possessions. We can contemplate more complacently what we have escaped than we could that which threatened the nation in 1896. But while there is no threat of a debased currency now, the troubles of the Philippines may serve to remind the American people they have settled only half of their currency problem and that they have a duty to perform in getting rid of a system that contracts the circulating medium during periods of greatest prosperity. The currency is sound on a gold basis, but is too rigid for the uses of developing industry and commerce. Worse yet, the sub-treasury institution robs active business of its vital element when it is most needed.

Another item of news from Manila is rather discouraging. Another outbreak of cholera has occurred in a detachment of the Fifth infantry, detailed to guard the city water supply and prevent its pollution. Seven deaths have occurred among the soldiers on that duty, and there is fresh alarm in the city. Evidently the sanitary problem in the Philippines is going to be as serious as the military problem was in the beginning—probably more so. So many of the natives are ignorant and opposed to sanitary measures that it will be difficult to accomplish much until they have been educated to a better appreciation of scientific methods. In Cuba the people were less superstitious and it was not hard to get them to co-operate in any steps that promised immunity from the dreaded yellow fever. The Filipinos fear the cholera more, but they are less tractable in the inauguration of preventive measures. Cholera for the most part is water borne. It is not so difficult, since it is understood, to bring it under control in civilized lands, but it is a task of tremendous proportions to stop the pollution of sources of water supply by the wandering tribes in the Philippines. Military patrol is about the only effective means for the purpose and a large enough force can hardly be spared to that use. Moreover, the conditions are rendered more difficult by the failure of the rice crop and the fear of an impending famine. The people are more prone to consume unwholesome food, to wander more from place to place, and the authorities are disposed to economize wherever they can to provide against necessary expenditures to give relief. Thus it may be that cholera has not done its worst in Luzon. Undoubtedly American effort has held the disease in check as it could not have been held without that intelligent assistance, and the American military power will continue to battle with unsanitary conditions as bravely and energetically as it did with armed rebellion. The end will be victory. Sooner or later cholera will be conquered as effectually as rebellion. But in the meantime there are misgivings as to the cost. There must be some sacrifice of the flower of American manhood before the demon is cast out, and that sacrifice is always grudgingly made, however noble the object. It is to be hoped, of course, the struggle will not be long, despite the unfavorable augury of an epidemic among the troops guarding the water supply, and it may be the alarm is greater than subsequent developments will justify. Be that as it may, the American flag is in the Philippines for good, and there it will stay as long as any good is to be done by keeping it there. America will meet its obligations in the face of disease and death and will conquer.

MAIN WATERWAY FIRST.

In its conclusion the river improvement convention at Parkersburg justified every expectation. The resolutions voice the right policy in every particular. Especially is the dictum to be commended that calls first for the improvement of the main stream from Pittsburgh to its juncture with the Mississippi. Improvement of the tributaries will follow as a matter of course. It will take time to accomplish it all and the lesser must wait upon the greater benefit. It is not asking too much that all of the river that has been surveyed shall be improved within eight years, or that the remainder be surveyed and improved within ten years. The Ohio has waited too long for its share of public attention and expenditure, and as the Panama canal may be completed in ten years, the navigable Ohio ought to be realized in the same period. The two projects are nearly related.

The convention is to be congratulated upon its success in raising funds and its program for bringing the subject of Ohio river improvement properly before President Roosevelt and before congress. The message of the president is in course of preparation, and it would have been unwise to delay presentation to him while working up a hippodrome excursion for the people between Pittsburgh and the Mississippi—a sort of propaganda not at all likely to appeal to the president, anyway. If an excursion is wanted it will be more appropriate for bringing influence to bear upon congress, though petitions and letters ought to answer quite as well in that quarter.

With this convention the campaign of publicity and promotion is fairly begun. Success will be won by keeping everlastingly at it. There is no doubt about the justness of the Ohio's claims in the mind of any one who has given the subject attention, and the thing to be accomplished is to make every member of congress give it attention. They ought to be made to understand that Ohio valley support will not be given to any other river or harbor expenditures until the Ohio is scheduled for what is due to it. If that be log rolling, then let the Ohio river men roll logs as earnestly as the lumbermen about the head waters of the Allegheny. The Ohio river is entitled to what it asks by reason of long service to the people of the whole country and the promise of better service in the future. It should use every fair means to get it.

THE JUST MAN ARMED.

When the strong, who are able to compel attention, speak for peace their influence is potent. "Remember, gentlemen," said President Roosevelt, addressing the New York chamber of commerce and its guests, "that we shall be a potent factor for peace largely in proportion to the way in which we make it evident that our attitude is due, not to weakness, not to inability to defend ourselves," etc., and: "The voice of the weakling or the craven counts for nothing when he clamors for peace." This is common sense. There are some foolish people who persist in arguing against preparedness, and these should consider the president's words. Safety is not secured by weakness or openness to attack. An ounce of prevention is yet of the value it always has been. We employ the policeman and arm him with a club and a revolver, not because there has been a burglary or a breach of the peace, but that he may be able to prevent them. The purpose is well understood and approved. Fortifications and warships and the men necessary to man them are only the national police agencies. They do not stand for a policy of aggression and oppression any more than does the policeman with his mace and revolver. National protection is no less a duty than municipal protection. When the burglar knows there is a policeman near he is less likely to attempt to crack a safe. When a burglarizing foreign nation desires to busy itself with the property of others it looks for a weak spot. The way to be safe is to be strong. To be weak is simply to invite attack. The millennium has not yet been ushered in outside the United States.

The president of the University of Michigan, in his latest report, said that about 25,000 alumni of that college are now living, "engaged in honorable and useful pursuits in all parts of the earth. Yet the total cost to the state of its support of the university has been less than the cost to the nation of a first-class battleship." Because he said this a certain weekly that prints its thoughts on book paper told its readers:

> Some recent estimates of the cost of ships should lead Americans to think seriously concerning the wisdom of entering into the race for sea power with England, Germany and France. The magnificent building of the library of congress at Washington cost far less than a first-class battleship. So, too, did all the buildings on the campus at Harvard, from which armies of educated young men go out annually to join in a struggle in which one ounce of education is worth a ton of gunpowder.

This is a fine mixture of sense and nonsense that is absolutely misleading and therefore harmful. Education and warships are means to different ends. The proper uses of the one tend to make us a great, enlightened and progressive people, well disposed toward each other and toward the world. In olden times the monasteries were centers of learning and prospered in paths of peace, but their learning did not protect them from the aggression that their prosperity invited. The world has progressed, but the old land hunger of Europe is not satisfied. The Monroe doctrine that has been set up against it is only a barren ideality, though supported by all the learning of all the colleges and all the storehouses of thought, if supported by nothing more. It is no mere "race for sea power with England, Germany and France," or with others that impels the building of warships. The nation that might seek to nullify the Monroe doctrine would not adopt the course of academic debate or fight with books. The quarrel would be neither of our seeking nor with weapons of our choosing, but it would be thrust upon us and we would be compelled to meet the aggressor on his own terms or submit.

Their educative influences, notwithstanding that "an ounce of education is worth a ton of gunpowder," and notwithstanding that educative influences are powerful and far-reaching, did not save Judea, or Greece, or Rome. Such influences may live, of course, after the destruction of the people that gave them birth, but this consideration does not make the protection of the people and their government from danger of destruction any the less a duty. The work of our alumni must be safeguarded or it will fail of its best results.

It is important to humanity that a government of the people and by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth, and its strength to resist aggression is the best guarantee of its perpetuation. The United States is a nation of just men, made so by education and training. "The voice of the just man armed is potent. We need to keep in a condition of preparedness, especially as regards our navy, not because we want war, but because we desire to stand with those whose plea for peace is listened to with respectful attention." So said President Roosevelt, and he is right.

INDIAN EDUCATION.

A late report concerning the work of the Haskell Indian institute, in Kansas, discusses the education of the red man in very hopeful strain. It admits a percentage of failures that may be discouraging to the casual observer, whose attention is attracted by a bad Indian who had advantages, but holds that results in general are very satisfactory to those engaged in the work. The same testimony is given by Capt. Pratt, in charge of the Indian school at Carlisle, in this state. In fact, Capt. Pratt is enthusiastic about the education of the Indian, whom he has found to be ordinarily tractable and frequently anxious to improve. Capt. Pratt, however, is strongly opposed to the education of the Indian on the reservation, where he mingles with his savage elders. He advocates education amid civilized surroundings and the placing of pupils with white families to as great an extent as possible, believing the educative influence of home life to be of the utmost value.

No doubt if the Indian is to have any future in his native country it must be secured in this way, but that is equivalent to saying his individual existence must cease. It is simply a case of merger and consolidation. The educated Indian is to be lost in the mass of society by becoming a part of it. In that way he may become a useful citizen, and in that way only. The aborigine is passing, and passing rapidly. There is a well defined movement now to break up the reservation system; to give the Indians their lands in severalty, and, after a period of probation, to permit them to do as they please with their holdings. It cannot be doubted that under such a system the white man will soon be in possession of a large share of the acres of the Indians. At present in Indian Territory one man leases many miles of Indian lands, which he manages so successfully that they pay to him and the owners large revenues. He and his prototypes may preserve for the Indians a part of their holdings for a generation or so, but almost certainly there will come to be a fair sprinkling of white farmers throughout the present Indian territories and a consequent diminution of Indian individuality. From one point of view this may be regretted; from another it is most encouraging.

It is gratifying to know the Indian problem is no longer one of fighting, raiding and massacre. It is one of as certain extinction, however, by leveling influences, education, industry, intermingling of the races. While eliminating the savage vices, we may also destroy some of the savage virtues, but the general average will be a better product. The self-sustaining, industrious Indian of moderate integrity is to be preferred to the lazy, treacherous tribe with its infrequent conspicuous examples of honesty and uprightness. The only way to secure the greatest good is to sacrifice tribal picturesqueness to the civilizing methods of the Carlisle school and the Haskell institute—segregation, football, manual training and book learning. These methods are more humane and more promising than driving the red man toward the setting sun and the big sea.

JONAH OR SCAPEGOAT.

When the Albany Argus calls David B. Hill a Jonah and asks the Democratic party to throw him overboard it indicates that there is a lack of harmony among New York Democrats. Whether they can restore harmony by throwing each other overboard is a question for Democrats, but unless they can carry it to the same extreme as the cats of Kilkenny, that ended their dispute by eating each other, they probably will not succeed. Things went wrong for the Democrats of Albany on election day as well as for the Democrats of New York state, and there is naturally a disturbed feeling. Hill is a Democrat, and the Argus is a Democratic paper that supported him. They went down in "one red burial bleat." Therefore the Argus says Hill is a Jonah. There will not be general agreement with the Argus on the point even among Democrats, but it will give them something to think about and quarrel over, even if it doesn't make them forget they are Democrats.

To the general mind a Jonah doesn't differ much from a scapegoat. A Jonah, however, is a heavy load for the ship, while the scapegoat is kicked out for the sins of others. Bearing in mind the distinction between a Jonah and a scapegoat, there will be some question as to whether the Argus really thinks Mr. Hill a Jonah or is merely interested in blackening him with the sins of his party to distract attention from the real weakness of the Democracy. In other words, is it the wish of the Argus to make Mr. Hill a scapegoat? If so, what's the use? The Democratic party is what it is. It was the Democratic party as a whole, and not Hill in particular, that the voters of New York state repudiated. The principles and policies of the organization won't do, and whether Hill goes overboard or remains on deck it is all the same. We think, too, that the Argus will find it necessary to consult Mr. Hill before carrying out its program. He may have an amendment to propose for the benefit of people who live in glass houses.

Those defeated Democratic congressional candidates in Ohio would doubtless like to meet Tom Johnson alone some day, when they had their stuffed clubs with them.

The Tennessee bears and panthers will emulate the example of the Virginia wild turkeys, and take to the tall grass, if they be wise.

ELECTRIC BOON FOR BOTH SIDES

New L System More Profitable to Company as Well as Better for Public.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

Electricity has proved a success on the Manhattan "L." George J. Gould, president of the system, in his report at the annual meeting of the company today, said that there had been an increase this year over last of 29,000,000 passengers, with a decrease in the expenses of operating. At first glance it might be thought that those figures were a wild exaggeration; but more than 500,000,000 passengers are carried in a year on the elevated railroads of Manhattan, so that there might easily be an increase, under favorable conditions, which seems impossible judged by ordinary standards. Whether the "L" is operated by electricity makes but little difference in the disposition of people to ride on it, save that with electricity the company is able to convey more cars quicker and at greater average speed than with the old-fashioned steam engine. This substitution of modern methods for those that have been used since the opening of the road in the early 80s has brought more passengers, simply because there has been more room for them. The comfort in riding in an electrically propelled trains is so much greater than on those drawn by steam engines, with the sudden stoppages and jerky getting under way at each station, that it is reasonable to suppose people prefer the "L" to the surface roads. So they do. It will not be long before the whole system is equipped with electricity, although only half of the lines are thus supplied at present. The Second and Third avenue divisions on the East Side are completed, and there are 80 electric cars on the Sixth and Ninth divisions on the West Side. It is expected that the entire system will be equipped by the 1st of April. The change this substitution of electricity for coal is making in the city along the route of the elevated railway is noticeable by everybody. Particularly has it been observed since the coal strike has made the use of soft coal common. There is less smoke, less noise, greater speed and and cleaner cars. That is the public's side. For the company, the earnings this year were nearly $1,500,000 more than in 1901.

Molineux Turns Playwright.

Molineux was on the Rialto today. He brought over two plays he wrote while in prison, and offered them for sale to a theatrical manager. One story is that he sold them. If he did, he was unusually lucky. The average theatrical manager is devoid of sentiment where business is concerned, and would be hardly likely to take off-hand two plays written by a novice, even though that novice had just been acquitted of murder after a sensational trial. It is well known that the average audience cares little for the name of the author if the play pleases, and Roland B. Molineux's name would not help a play to succeed unless the work were intrinsically valuable. It may be that Molineux developed talent that was almost genius for writing for the stage while in prison, but you cannot find many people in the theatrical part of Broadway to believe it.

Iselin Thinks the Cup is Safe.

C. Oliver Iselin, who returned to New York today on the White Star liner Oceanic, thinks we shall be able to keep the America's cup next year, in spite of all that Sir Thomas Lipton may do to "lift" it. He says the new defender probably will be of nickel steel and will be on the same general lines as the boat that beat Shamrock II. Mr. Iselin added: "We will have Capt. Charles Barr, and Sir Thomas will have a very fast boat if he takes the cup, for conditions with us are better than ever."

Draw the Line at Biting a Horse's Lip.

A Brooklyn blacksmith has hit on a new plan for subduing a fractious horse. He bit the animal on the lip, besides beating and kicking it. The beating and kicking might have been accepted as a blacksmith's privilege when he had lost his temper over shoeing a horse, but the biting was too much for a judge in special sessions today, and he fined the blacksmith $25.

Forgot the "Low Bridge."

The old cry so familiar to Pittsburgh in the ancient days when traffic between the east and west was largely by canal boat was "Low bridge." When this warning was sounded everybody on board ducked. Persons accustomed to riding on canal boats could gauge the distance between the upper deck and the bottom of the bridge so accurately that they would lower their heads just enough to escape it and no more. Pilots on big steamers in New York harbor had reached the same delicacy of perception with regard to the new East river bridge, which was afire on Monday. Unfortunately, the pilot of the steamship City of Worcester today had forgotten the fire, and he tried to go shooting down the river under the bridge with all his tophamper at full height. When he had passed the bridge, with his main topmast broken and a great hole in his hurricane deck where the splintered pole had gone through, he was mad because he had not given himself the old-time "low bridge" warning.

General Bear Raid Threatened.

Bears were rampant in Wall street today. They have tasted blood, and now there is no telling where their raid will end. That is the gossip at the Waldorf tonight, after a day of tribulation on the "street," and everyone is anxious to see what the morrow may bring forth. It is whispered about the billiard room and gentlemen's restaurant at the big hotel that a sensational raid may be made when the gong sounds for the opening on 'change.

Ambition Spoiled by an Essay.

"Here is a warning to 'spellbinders' of exuberant fancy and eloquence. It happens that the awful example in this instance is a woman, but it might well be a man next time. Mrs. L. V. Lynch is an earnest worker in the state convention of the Federation of Women's clubs, now in session in Brooklyn, and it was expected that she would be chosen unanimously for president at the forthcoming election of officers. She was favorite, and all looked fair for her. Then, in a fateful moment, she got up to read a paper. It was fateful because some of her sisters in convention declared afterward that the paper was "too flowery and too long." They might have forgiven the blossoms of rhetoric, but they could not stand prolixity. So they think "she would not do for president," and a very charming lady named Mrs. Dora Lyon has the call. Can Pittsburgh women imagine Mrs. Lynch's indignation

Coroner's Jury Down on Bombs.

A coroner's jury has resolved that bombs in eruption are not fitting incidents in the streets of a big city. After deciding that the fireworks explosion in Madison square on election night, which killed 4 people and injured many others, arose from unknown causes, the jury considering the matter appended to their verdict: "We suggest that hereafter the explosion of bombs be prohibited at all times in the streets and public parks of New York." This suggestion is none the less pertinent because the municipal authorities had about made up their collective mind to the same thing.

Schools of Dyspepsia.

While hygiene is a important study in the public schools, the "quick lunch" has found its way into some of the high schools of Brooklyn. In the 15 minutes recess the boys and girls rush pell-mell to the basement, where they are fed on chocolate eclairs, soup, milk, coffee, sandwiches, cream cakes and pie at regular lower Broadway hashery speed. What awful gastronomic doings can be noted in that quarter of an hour I dare not tell; but it is a fact that the boys and girls can make a clean sweep of the counters and get to their studies again as the gong strikes, and they seem to thrive on it. Cast iron digestions, such as are known only to youth, are tested down in that basement, and so long as pocket money holds out the institution is likely to flourish. Who can wonder at the boldness with which young men and women attack pie counters in Park row and Nassau street when they have had early training in their school days?

One Love of a Hat Not Enough.

It may not be news to Pittsburgh women that separate hats for each costume is the law in New York. Black beavers go with tailor-made frocks, and hats to match in color more fanciful dresses must be worn without fail if woman wants to be regarded as in good form. This is official, I am told.

Letting Up on Hill.

Tammany has announced through some of its big men that it will not take a hand in the knifing of David B. Hill. The point of view is that the injury done by Hill to the party is the concern of the up-state Democrats, and that they must deal with the "Sage of Wolfert's Roost." A few prominent Tammanyites, like ex-Postmaster Dayton, think that Hill has been blamed too much for the catastrophe of Tuesday week, but most of them have no mercy. Meanwhile, it may be remarked that Hill is keeping out of New York city. It is only a few weeks since he was cheered in the Fourteenth street wigwam. It is doubtful whether he would care to show his face there now.

No Congratulation from Coler.

Gov. Odell was asked today whether he had received a letter of congratulation from Bird S. Coler, the defeated Democratic candidate for the governorship. "I have not noticed any in my mail," was the dry reply.

Soft Coal May Stay.

In view of the possibility of coal being scarce all winter, there may be a rescinding of Mayor Low's order to stop the use of soft coal on and after Saturday. Dr. Lederle, health commissioner, said today that he would confer with the mayor tomorrow or Friday and decide what is to be done. It will be hand-to-mouth for coal until warm weather comes, and he thinks it would be an unnecessary hardship to forbid the use of bituminous coal under present conditions. The black smoke is a nuisance, but it is not so bad as would be shivering people all over the city when that long delayed "cold wave" does come.

Schoolma'am and Oarswoman.

Harts Island is one of the bumps of land that one sees in the upper part of the East river, and, like all the other islands along there, is devoted to public uses by the city of New York. A certain class of criminals are sent to Harts island to serve out their sentences. A great many wardens and other officials, with their wives, live on the island, and they have children, like other people. To educate these children a school has been established on the island and a young woman installed as teacher. It is an experiment and seems to be a successful one. Miss Pearl Hall, the teacher, is a good oarswoman, as well as schoolteacher, and one of her common diversions is to row herself to her home at City island, a mile and a furlong distant, through the choppy waves of the East river in an ordinary yawl. She is only 21, and if she is not exactly a heroine, certainly she stands high in the estimation of her neighbors on Harts island.

Life-Saving Lectures by a Life-Saver.

Lectures on life-saving along the Atlantic coast are common enough in New York, and the people of this city are about as well informed on what to do in an emergency in the water as those of any place in the country; but they are to have some more official knowledge, for a series of lectures are to be delivered here under the supervision of the board of education by Capt. Richard Confield, chief inspector and instructer of the United States volunteer life-saving corps. Capt. Confield has saved a great many lives, and he is well known to Pittsburghers for work he has done at Manhattan beach and elsewhere.

Contempt of Danger Common Failing.

It comes out that there have been two more fires at the new East river bridge since the great blaze of Monday. There was one today caused by a laborer putting a lighted pipe into his pocket while it hung in a shanty among a lot of inflammable material. The fire was put out without much damage, and probably the workman will take the same kind of risk at 10 o'clock at the earliest opportunity. Familiarity breeds contempt of danger. Pittsburgh has had many examples of the risks miners will take in going into gaseous chambers with uncovered lights in their caps, although there are stringent rules that only "safety" lamps shall be carried. Human nature is the same on top of the East river bridge towers as it is in Western Pennsylvania coal mines.

Pennsylvania and the Speakership.

From the Lancaster Examiner.

This state can proudly present Hon. John Dalzell of Pittsburgh against whom no objection on personal and political grounds can be produced. His ability is admitted, his experience is well known and his courage and independence in the maintenance of what he considers right are acknowledged. He has been for some years a leader in the house and is therefore a national man and about the only one we have from this state in the national congress—Senator Quay being the other. If supreme fitness determined the choice of Speaker Mr. Dalzell would get the honor. Practically the only thing that can operate against him is the geographical question. It is again the west against the east. Today the two prominent candidates are Dalzell and Cannon, and sectionalism enters largely into the contest, which will be kept up all the coming winter unless Col. Henderson sees fit to make another retirement. As matters stand, Dalzell has the better chance, and every Pennsylvanian should hope and labor for his ultimate success.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab of Lorette, the parents of C. M. Schwab; Mrs. M. E. Kinsey, mother of Mrs. C. M. Schwab, and T. G. Wagner of Braddock will leave for New York today, where they will sail on the Kronprinz Wilhelm next Tuesday to join Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Schwab in their travels through Turkey.

William Henry Given of the American Contractor, of New York and Chicago, who is in Pittsburgh studying building operations, is impressed to the point of enthusiasm over the office building construction here. "To the best of my knowledge there is no building of this class outside of Pittsburgh or New York of as many as 25 stories," said Mr. Given, "and there are only two structures in New York whose roof line reaches a higher altitude than your Farmers Bank building. The prospect is that skyscrapers will multiply in this city in a way that will surprise veteran business men."

Waste of Energy.

From the Pilgrim.

If the brain power that goes into whist were put on the school question; if the time spent on learning to say nothing in French were put into the study of ideas in the field of economics or sociology or American history, to be expressed in clear English; if half of the energy spent on horse shows, golf, teas, dances and other amusements, harmless only when one does not gorge on them, were spent on coming face to face with real producers in tenements, factories, shops, schools or college settlements—several things would happen. The ambitious, fretful woman who is driving her husband to forgery or a divorce court; the woman who finds life a busy bore, a monotonous, irritating kaleidoscope, and the sweet little lady who thinks herself too small and helpless even to venture to try to get an opinion on the big question over which her supposedly wise husband shakes his head, would all begin to get the joy of real power. Men, absorbed in the technicalities of one business, would gladly learn from such wives some other aspects of the great problems of business, justice and democracy and gain a wider horizon than their office or the stock exchange.

Business First.

From the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

This a busy and a business nation, after all, and while it on occasions indulges in spread-eagleism and claps its hands when it sees the rocket's red glare and bombs bursting in air, it considers these things as pleasing incidents and not as serious and permanent objects. In the last analysis it goes in for the material and practical and such chimerical phantoms as imperialism it looks upon as a mere diversion fit only for moments of relaxation.

At It Again.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Chicago deeply offended the crown prince of Siam by dressing the lackeys at a dinner given in his honor in the Siamese garb. Chicago can always be depended on to violate etiquette.

FEELS AT HOME, THOUGH FAR AWAY

Visitor from Tasmania Describes the Condition of Affairs in His Country.

"To hear everybody speaking the English language sounds sweet to the ear of a man who is as far from home as I am," said Mr. E. G. Webster of Hobart, Tasmania, to a Washington Post reporter. Mr. Webster, though a British subject, has for many years been a United States consul in the above named country, and he is visiting the United States for the first time.

"I wanted to see this country," said he, "and I also had a little business with your fish commissioner. We have been trying in vain for a number of years to propagate salmon in Tasmania, all our supplies having been sent from your Atlantic coast. It was thought that perhaps better luck might attend our efforts if we could draw on the Pacific coast hatcheries, and so I am going to ask the kindly assistance of your government officials in the matter.

"Tasmania, as you know, is an island, about 200 miles distant from the Australian coast. Politically, we are a member of the newly formed Australian federation. The island is in area about the size of Ireland. Part of the country has a soil of exceeding fertility, and produces in great abundance most of the cereals and fruits equal to California. A large part, however, is barren. The climate is about as good as one could wish, never cold in winter or very hot in summer. Tasmania is also great in mineral resources, and is a big producer of gold, copper, lead and tin. It has a population of about 200,000, mostly English, Irish and Scotch. There used to be quite a number of natives, a race of black people of a very degraded type, but they perished when civilization came in, and but few remain.

"Tasmania is suffering to some extent on account of the disturbance to its financial system. Before the federation of the Australian colonies our government got quite a good revenue from the collection of duties on imports. After the union was formed trade became at once free between the colonies, and all the money we lost from this source had to be made up by direct taxation. In a small country this is sure to prove a burden, but in course of time no doubt we shall be able to adjust ourselves to the changed conditions.

"I think that the new federal government has come to stay. At present, there is considerable grumbling and much discontent with it, especially in Queensland and New South Wales. These colonies have suffered terribly from the draught, and when people are thus afflicted, they are apt to be out of humor with all their surroundings."

ELECTION HILARITY.

"Speaking of election hilarity," remarked A. B. Pheips, head clerk at the St. Charles, to a Milwaukee Sentinel representative, "when I was over in Kansas City behind the desk in the Midland, a local passenger agent of the Frisco system came in with an election load aboard, registered the name of the general passenger agent of the company, called for a room and went to bed. In the morning he came down, after the night clerk had taken his departure, looked over the register, and, seeing the name of his chief spread upon the register, said:

"'When did Mr. Schaeffer come in?

ROOS IN PICKLE FOR MR. CANNON

Friends of Appropriations He Turned Down Lying in Wait for Him.

THEIR NAME IS LEGION

If Dalzell Wins, Maj. McDowell of Pennsylvania Will Likely Lose His Job—What Grosvenor Learned During Campaign.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
906 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.

Representative Cannon's arbitrary actions as chairman of the appropriations committee will prove a weakness in his contest for speaker. Ruthlessly he would refuse the claims of new members for local appropriations, and they now propose to get even. In discussing this point Representative Emerson of New York said today:

"Oh, the boys won't do a thing to Uncle Joe Cannon and the appropriations committee this session. Just think of how the fellows whom he has 'turned down' will go for him when congress meets! I can just see them now, first giving out a little interview declaring themselves as still on the fence on the speakership candidacy and then going around to Uncle Joe and saying:

"'Well, now, how about that little matter—that appropriation for my district I have been trying to get into the sundry civil bill for so long, huh?'

"It seems to me they will have Uncle Joe between the devil and the deep blue sea. I don't know which would be hardest for him to do—to have to give up some of those appropriations he has denied the boys, or see the votes slipping away from him. It's kind of rough on Uncle Joe, but it will be nuts for the boys."

Affects Maj. McDowell's Job.

The speakership contest may make some changes in the house officers. If Mr. Babcock should be speaker, the office of sergeant-at-arms, now held by Mr. Casson of Wisconsin, would have to go to another state. If Mr. Payne or Mr. Sherman should get the speakership, Mr. Lyons, the doorkeeper of the house, would have to yield, and if Mr. Dalzell should win, the clerkship of the house, now held by Maj. McDowell of Pennsylvania, would have to pass along.

Representative Mercer of Nebraska, according to newspaper reports, is a candidate for the office of clerk of the house, having been defeated for re-election to the house. If Mr. Dalzell should find that he could not win the speakership, it is thought in congressional circles that the Pennsylvania delegation would insist on the retention of Maj. McDowell as clerk and would give Mr. Mercer a lively fight in case that gentleman should decide to enter the lists for the clerkship.

There are all kinds of combinations to be made in house patronage and important committee assignments which may have a bearing on the speakership contest itself. It is considered a wide-open game, with entries free for all, and every experienced member of the house is looking out for his own interests first. Friendships end when a fight like this begins, and it is a struggle for existence for all parties to it.

Grosvenor Feels Public Pulse.

Representative Grosvenor came to town today. "The majority in my district was increased in this election," said Gen. Grosvenor to The Gazette correspondent. "The people were afraid to tamper with prosperity and Democrats who felt that way voted the Republican ticket."

"What about legislation this winter?" Gen. Grosvenor was asked.

"Well, I cannot see any prospect for tariff revision. In the first place, it is a debatable question as to the demand for it. The defeat of Foss in Massachusetts might be taken as a pointer that there is not. Out my way, when we talked about tariff revision to the people, we noticed one thing—that they were responsive to the suggestion that the Republican party is willing to revise the tariff when it is wise to do so, and they were enthusiastic over the statement that when revision comes it must be undertaken by the Republican party, and that party alone. We certainly cannot do anything with the tariff this session. When the Dingley bill was framed it took from March 15 until July to do it. I imagine we will worry along with the appropriation bills at this session and then 'knock off' work until the following session."

"What about Tom L. Johnson's future in Ohio?"

"He is done for. His man in Hamilton county beaten by 27,000, just think of that! Mr. Johnson will not come to the front again."

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

PITTSBURGH HAS NEW STORE TO BOAST OF

J. G. Bennett & Co. Now Have the Handsomest Fur and Outfitting House in the Country.

The handsomest and most complete fur factory and women's outfitting house in the country is the boast of Pittsburgh in the new annex recently added to the establishment of J. G. Bennett & Co., at Fifth avenue and Wood street. Five floors in the building are devoted to the fur trade and women's goods by Mr. Bennett, and he has met good success in his attempt to reach perfection in this department of the business.

The basement and the first and second floors are used as sales rooms, and are models of convenience and completeness. The basement will be used for the display of furs, and garments of like character. The floor is of mosiac marble, while plate glass cases, magnificent mirrors and mahogany show cases make it a very inviting room. The fixtures cost over $5,000. It is well lighted and provided with adequate ventilating apparatus.

The first floor will be used for millinery, cloaks and suits. This salesroom and the one on the second floor has elegant hardwood flooring and the show cases are disposed about in a manner that indicates chaste elegance. An immense window of stained glass covers the entire western wall. Beautiful rugs adorn the floor. The goods are kept in the same kind of mahogany cases used in the basement. The examples of fine headgear shown in this department look like creations from fairyland, and the realization that they were fashioned right here in Pittsburgh is assurance that Mr. Bennett's claim to keep in the van with his millinery is made on good grounds.

The salesroom on the second floor, where women's suits and other fittings will be kept, is provided with comfortable seats, triplicate mirrors and fitting rooms—everything necessary for the comfort of purchasers. A visit to the top floors of the building is an education to persons who are ignorant of the delicate work necessary in the manufacture of fine furs. Hundreds of pelts of Alaskan seals are kept, and the garments are made to measure for each customer. Altogether the establishment is the most complete in the country, and is not rivaled by those of New York.

PRINCE CUPID BEATS WILCOX.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The steamer Alameda, from Honolulu, brings the news that the recent election in the territory of Hawaii resulted in a sweeping Republican victory. Prince Kalaniaaole, popularly known as "Prince Cupid," was elected delegate to congress, over Robert W. Wilcox, Democrat, the incumbent, by a majority of over 2,000.

Wound Made by Cemetery Watchman Serves to Identify Moffitt as Ghoul.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12.—William Moffit was arrested today. It is said he has been in the grave robbing business for nearly a quarter of a century. The detectives say that he was employed as a janitor in one of the medical colleges a few years ago.

Moffitt, when confronted with Cantrell and other negro ghouls, denied that he knew any of the negroes.

"Now, look here, Moffitt," Cantrell said, "I can prove right here that I know you. What kind of a scar have you on your back?"

Moffitt replied sullenly that he did not have a scar on his back. A heated argument between them arose and Cantrell declared that Moffitt was shot in the back by a night watchman while robbing a grave in the Insane Hospital cemetery about four years ago.

"I'm going to strip you and see if you were shot," Detective Asch said.

Moffitt realized then that he was in a tight place and admitted that there was a bullet wound in his back. He denied, however, that he was robbing a grave when he was shot. He finally admitted that he knew the negroes, but denied that he ever robbed graves with them.

Moffitt was released late today on $5,000 bonds furnished by a local trust company.

THE OPERATORS AGREED.

Will Resist to the Last the Proposition to Recognize the United Mine Workers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—That the anthracite coal mine owners will resist to the utmost every effort to make the recognition of the United Mine Workers an issue in the arbitration is made evident by the replies to the statement of President Mitchell of the miners' organization, which have been filed with the strike commission. There are five of these answers, in addition to that of President Baer, which was given out yesterday, and all dwell with especial emphasis and marked unanimity on this point. They also agree in resisting the demands of the miners for an increase of pay for piece work, a reduction of hours for time work, and for the weighing rather than the measurement of coal.

Recorder Wright left for the anthracite regions today, taking these replies with him. They are from the Delaware and Hudson Company, the Delaware and Lackawanna, the Lehigh Valley, the Pennsylvania and the Scranton Coal Company.

EMPEROR A GOOD SHOT.

He Bags Many Pheasants on Sandringham Game Preserve.

SANDRINGHAM, ENGLAND, Nov. 12.—Emperor William today proved his prowess as a remarkable shot. Clad in a light green hunting suit, he kept three loaders extremely busy. King Edward, the Prince of Wales, Count Wolff-Metternich, the German ambassador, and other members of the shooting party who accompanied the emperor are all good shots, but twice as many pheasants fell to Emperor William's gun as to those of the others.

The large crowds out to witness today's drive, which was the biggest one arranged for the royal visit, had an excellent view of the sport, and as bird after bird dropped before the unerring aim of the German emperor, the spectators openly expressed their admiration, much to the emperor's amusement.

GEN. MILES' SUCCESSOR.

It Is Now Definitely Decided That Gen. Young Will be the Man.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The slate for the promotion to major generals to fill vacancies caused by retirements which will take place next year has been arranged. There will be three vacancies, Gen. Hughes retiring April 11, Gen. Davis July 26 and Gen. Miles August 8. Miles, as lieutenant general in command of the army, will be succeeded by Maj.-Gen. Young of Pittsburgh.

The brigadiers to be promoted to be major generals are James F. Wade, Samuel S. Sumner and Leonard Wood.

Three Hurt In Wreck.

Three trainmen were injured and the track was blocked from 10:15 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. yesterday by a wreck on the Wheeling branch of the Baltimore & Ohio. Freight train 53, hauled by engine 1338, struck extra engine 1316 just west of Rand station, derailing engine 1338 and one car. Engineman T. V. Lynch and C. H. Weisgerber and Fireman C. L. Stephens were hurt. At the general superintendent's office it was stated that their injuries are not dangerous.

Elected Officers.

At a meeting of the board of inspectors of the Western penitentiary yesterday David B. Oliver was elected president and ex-Mayor William J. Diehl secretary. The new members of the board recently appointed by the court, D. L. Gillespie and W. M. Kerr, attended the meeting, and the organization is now complete. Gillespie and Kerr were appointed to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of George A. Kelley and Charles F. Nevin.

SUPERIOR JUDGE MAY BE RETIRED

John I. Mitchell's Physical Condition to Be Investigated.

COMMISSION APPOINTED

Gov. Stone Names Physicians to Make Examination—Successor May Be Selected Before the First of the Year.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12.—Superior Court Judge John I. Mitchell of Wellsboro, who has been a hopeless invalid for more than two years, will retire in time to allow Gov. Stone to appoint his successor. Judge Mitchell's term expires the first Monday of January, 1910, and under the judges retirement act passed by the last legislature he will receive half pay, or $3,750 annually, from the date of his retirement until the expiration of his commission.

Gov. Stone today appointed a commission composed of Dr. J. Y. Shoemaker of Philadelphia; Dr. A. J. Connell of Scranton and Dr. M. L. Bacon of Wellsboro, Judge Mitchell's family physician, to examine and report upon the judge's condition. This commission will make report to the governor, and if it finds that Judge Mitchell is incapacitated from serving on the bench, the judge can be retired on half pay for the remainder of his term.

Judge Mitchell took his seat in January, 1900. About a year afterward he was prostrated by paralysis and has not since served on the bench. Gov. Stone will appoint a successor to Justice Mitchell if he shall retire, who will serve until January, 1904.

This is the first case in which the retirement bill has been invoked. Judge Peter P. Smith of Scranton has been ill for about two years, although not incapacitated to perform his judicial duties at stated intervals, and the work of the court has devolved upon the five other members.

Chief Justice Charles E. Rice of Wilkesbarre was recently operated upon for appendicitis, and it will be some time before he is able to resume his duties. The four remaining judges have their hands full keeping up with the work of the court, and Stone is expected to appoint Mitchell's successor as soon as the commission reports. The governor declines to discuss the probable appointee.

TOWER TO SEE CZAR.

Special Distinction Accorded to the United States Ambassador.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—Ambassador Tower, recently transferred to Berlin, and Mrs. Tower leave here tomorrow by a special car for Livadia, where the czar has invited Mr. Tower to call on him.

This is a special distinction, as the rule was long since established forbidding formal receptions at Livadia. The czar's action has caused much comment and is generally construed to be an expression of the czar's personal feelings toward the United States and its retiring ambassador.

COURTS TOOK A HAND AND PERMITTED FOOTBALL GAME

PRINCETON'S PLAYERS GET TIGER CUB FOR A MASCOT

THE COURT RULED FOR FOOTBALL

Row Over Rent Made Preliminary Injunction Necessary.

PLAY IN MOONLIGHT

A preliminary injunction, issued by Judge Frazer in common pleas court No. 2 late yesterday afternoon, enabled the Western University of Pennsylvania and the Allegheny college football elevens to play their scheduled football game on the Colosseum gridiron. The necessity of applying for an injunction delayed the game until 5 o'clock. The second half of the contest was played while the moon was shining, and it was an absolute impossibility for the officials, let alone the spectators, to distinguish either the player or the ball. The game was won by the Allegheny college team, 6 to 0.

The cause for a preliminary injunction grew out of a financial dispute between Manager C. L. Livingston of the Western University team and David J. Berry, who has the control of the Colosseum for the football season. It seems that before the football season started an arrangement was entered into between Livingston and Berry whereby the W. U. P. team was to have the use of the Colosseum for its games, as well as for practice, for the sum of $1,000. Of this money, $250 was to be paid on signing the agreement, $250 on November 1, and the other $500 to be deducted from the gate receipts, providing they ran over $150 each game, the additional gate money to be evenly split between W. U. P. and Mr. Berry.

The Cause Of the Trouble.

According to Berry's statement, when the $250 became due on November 1 he failed to get it, even after writing to Livingston at various times. This alleged failure on the part of the W. U. P. manager led Berry to take action, and he refused to allow W. U. P. to use the grounds yesterday afternoon. Accompanied by two police officers, Berry visited the grounds early and ejected the W. U. P. players, who were in the dressing room getting ready for the game. The gates were closed and policemen stationed to guard them.

When Livingston arrived and learned the condition of affairs he hastened to Pittsburgh and applied at once for a preliminary injunction, which was granted and made returnable at 9:30 o'clock, Saturday morning. In the meantime 200 people assembled in front of the gates and clamored for admission, which was denied. Among this crowd were the players of the Allegheny college team. The crowd was good-natured.

When Manager Livingston arrived with a court officer, the injunction was read to Berry, who gave in at once and ordered the gates opened. The opening of the gates was greeted with cheers and in a few minutes everybody found seats.

Livingston does not deny the arrangement with Berry, but claims that he entrusted Berry to arrange a game with the Philadelphia professional team for W. U. P., to be played on the Thursday after election day. This game fell through and Livingston claimed to have gone to an expense of $182 25, which he wanted deducted from the $250 due on November 1. Berry claims he agreed to allow $30 to cover the expense of advertising, but would not stand for the amount asked by Livingston.

Owing to the late hour at which the gates were opened, it was agreed between the captains of the contesting teams that the game consist of two 15-minute halves, and when the referee's whistle was blown for the start of the game the shades of night were already setting over the playing field. Both elevens were represented by bunches of rooters, who let out their college cries with a will. First the Meadville crowd would let go, only to be answered back by the W. U. P. rooters, and this challenging of yells was kept up during the entire afternoon.

Neither Team Could Score.

The first half produced a lot of good hard football playing, but no score. W. U. P. opened up by kicking off to Williams of Allegheny, who gained 15 yards, and the Meadville boys rushed the ball to the center of the field, where they were held for downs. Williams' kick sent the ball over the line, and there was a punting match in which the Meadville fullback had the best of it. The playing was fierce, with honors about even, and when the half ended the ball was on Allegheny's 30-yard line.

The rest between halves was made short and on the start of the second half Allegheny kicked to Secrist, who returned the ball 25 yards. W. U. P. then rushed the ball to the center of the field, where it was lost on downs. The Meadville boys then took a turn at the rushing business and their rooters went nearly wild. Taylor made a 30-yard run around W. U. P.'s right end and the ball was advanced to the two-yard line by Williams. At this stage W. U. P. made a heroic stand and held for two downs, but on the third Williams went over for the touchdown and afterwards kicked the goal.

Couldn't Tell Players Apart.

By this time it had grown so dark that the people on the side lines could not tell the players apart. The officials insisted that the game go on, and for five minutes the elevens battled in the darkness. Finally time was called. In the matter of play the Allegheny eleven was superior to the local team. One of the features of the game was the punting of Williams, the Allegheny fullback. The best work for W. U. P. was done by Rugh, whose 25-yard run around Allegheny's left end was a clever bit of football. The score and line-up:

PITTSBURGH COLLEGE TEAM.

It Will Line Up Against Wash.-Jeff. on Saturday.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 12.—Special.)—With the exception of Sutter all of the Washington and Jefferson varsity will be able to go into the game Saturday at College park against the Pittsburgh college. Manager Craig has secured the Pittsburghers to fill the dates left vacant by the cancelling of State.

Although varsity men are all rounding up in good shape it is possible that a number of new faces may be seen in the lineup, as the coach is hunting for better material, and the places are all open. Fullback Murphy had charge of the men today in place of Capt. Hayes, who is at his home in California on account of the death of his brother. Attention is being given to the defense, and the coach is being assisted in the work by W. B. Seaman. Teck Mathews and a number of others.

THE TIGERS GET REAL LIVE TIGER

Regarded as Great Mascott and Think Victory Sure.

M'CLINTOCK'S RUN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—All Princeton is rejoicing today, for the Tigers have found a mascot. It is no less than a real tiger cub, which arrived in camp this morning, addressed to Capt. Davis. It came by express and it was learned later that it was presented to the Princetons' captain through A. R. T. Hillebrand, '00, who is now coaching the Annapolis football team.

The whole university turned out to practice today and marched to the field in a body, singing and cheering, and just as the game was about to start with the scrubs, Coaches Bannard and Poe led the tiger on the field. It is a small animal only three weeks old and measures about five feet from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail. It is marked very prettily. When the tiger cub appeared in the presence of such a tumult the students were making he became balky and was with difficulty induced to approach the gridiron, but after a while he grew accustomed to the noise and allowed some of the players to pat him, though he looked suspiciously at their orange and black striped stockings. This event is considered a good omen for Saturday's game with Yale.

A surprising change was made in the line up today. Short was moved from tackle to center and Barney put back on the scrub. E. C. Brown took Short's place at tackle and Bradley was back again at left guard. Kafer was on the field in uniform, and it is understood that he will be used on Saturday in case of emergency, though his broken collar bone has not yet entirely healed.

In the game with the scrubs the work of the first eleven was good on the defensive and showed improvement on the offense, but there was a decided tendency to fumble. That lost them the ball several times. Bush was put in at substitute right half back in place of Stevens. The 'varsity scored once on touchdown by Hart, after rushing from their 25-yard line, and rushed the ball in all about 145 yards.

McClintock Made Fine Run.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 12.—The Yale scrubs tied the 'varsity today, McClintock making a 30 and Preston a 35-yard run through the regulars' ranks. The 'varsity seemed lifeless. Only 10-minute halves were played, the 'varsity rushing the ball down the field for a touchdown at the start.

Metcalf and Capt. Chadwick were in uniform for the first time this week, but Chadwick did not line up. Metcalf worked only five minutes. Both are still stale. Glass and Shevlin have abscesses in their ears as the result of the Bucknell game. The Yale players are gradually rounding into physical condition. Field Coach Swan said tonight that the hard work was over, that the week's practice would be short and brief, and that the night be no line-up whatever on Friday.

The substitute halfbacks, Vanderpoel and Ward, played sharp football throughout the practice today. Harvey McClintock of Pittsburgh was given fullback on the scrubs because he resembles in play De Witt of Princeton, and he made a 35-yard run against the regulars.

John Minds of the University of Pennsylvania, was today appointed timer, and Dr. Hull of this city, lineman for Yale for the Yale-Princeton game Saturday. The Yale brass band marched to the Yale field today with about 500 students in line behind it, and Yale songs and cheers made the gridiron ring during the practice. A mass meeting was held tonight to awaken enthusiasm.

Will Not Try for Large Score.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Harvard's team continued light practice today. Every man is in good shape, and are trying to keep that way. Defence work was touched up today a little, in preparation for the game with Dartmouth, Saturday. The New Hampshire men are a sturdy outfit, and what they lack is science. They are users of the ring belt, but this will not be allowed at the game with Harvard. The Crimson coaches said tonight that no attempt will be made to put up a big score, and give Yale a line on their form and play. The men will simply sharpen their defense, in which they are lamentably weak.

Pennsy's Fine Practice.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Despite the fact that the annual cross-country run between Pensylvania and Cornell monopolized Franklin field this afternoon until near 4 o'clock, the red and blue football squad was given its regular practice. The work of the team was highly encouraging to Coach Williams, his assistants and to the few members of the football committee present. It seems the players have not forgotten the splendid showing made against Harvard, and they entered into the work today with a spirit which means trouble for the Indians on Saturday. Every play and formation was gotten off quickly and the team seems to be more accurate in its all-round work, especially in catching punts, passing the ball and judging quarterback kicks. Considerable time was devoted to signal practice and the substitutes were drilled as earnestly as the regular eleven, although the possibilities of injury are very remote, as the team is in better physical condition now than at any time this season.

BRUNSWICK WAS BEATEN.

St. Cecilia Bowlers Took All Three of the Games.

The Brunswick bowling team went down to a defeat on the St. Cecilia alleys last night, the home team taking all three of the games in clever style.

The feature of last night's game was the bowling of Seerhaler of the Cecilia team, who came pretty close to the league record, having an average for the evening of an even 200. For the Brunswick team Duell, who had only taken part in one match game, did very clever work, having an average of 151 1-10. The scores made were:

THE QUAKERS GAVE ORANGE BAD DEFEAT

Close Score Looked for, but Game Was a Walkaway for the Phillies.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The Orange A. C. football eleven was treated to the worst defeat today they have sustained in 14 years, Manager Shettsline's aggregation of football players taking the Jerseymen into camp by the one-sided score of 40 to 0.

It was anticipated by the crowd of enthusiasts on hand that the game would be close and exciting, inasmuch as Orange had put up such a great game against the Athletics so short a time ago, but from some unknown reason the visitors failed to put up the great defense they showed in the Athletic game and were outclassed from start to finish. The score and line-up:

PERFECT BOWLING RECORD.

An Akron Expert Made the Remarkable Score.

AKRON, O., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Bourke M. Frees of this city made a perfect record, 300, while bowling in the three-man tourney here the other night.

BOURKE M. FREES of Akron.

Frees did this once before, but not in a match game, and it cannot be accepted as a record.

IN THE SECOND ROUND.

Eddie Zang Put His Right on McCloskey's Chin and Pittsburgh Boy Was Out.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The boxing bout at the Nonpareil A. C. auditorium at this place tonight between Eddie Zang of Allegheny and Frank McCloskey of Pittsburgh ended in the middle of the second round by McCloskey going out from a stiff right hand blow to the point of the chin. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds, and both men were in the pink of condition, weighing in at 114 pounds. In the betting McCloskey was the favorite at 2 to 1, and very little Zang money was in sight even at such odds.

McCloskey looked the larger and better developed muscularly, and was extremely confident. From the first tap of the bell the fighting was fast and furious, the first round ending with the Pittsburgher having a shade the better of it. Both men came up fresh for the second round and again the same rapid exchange of blows followed, each man evidently bent on making short work of it.

After a minute and a half of fierce fighting Zang got an opening and like a flash took advantage of it; his right shot out with the full force of his body behind it, and he caught the Pittsburgher fairly on the point of the chin, lifting him almost off his feet. He dropped as if hit with an ax and never moved while the referee counted off the 10 seconds and awarded the fight to Zang.

McCloskey was then picked up by his seconds and carried to his corner, where in a short time he came to. Neither man showed any signs of the encounter, and McCloskey, after a rub down, was as good as ever.

THREW UP THE SPONGE.

Jimmy Devine Lasted Seven Rounds With Tommy Feltz.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—"Tommy" Feltz, the bantam-weight champion of the world, was given the decision over "Jimmy" Devine of Philadelphia tonight before the Eutaw Athletic club.

"Tommy" Love, also of Philadelphia, was to have met Feltz in a championship battle, but telegraphed late today that he was too ill to appear. Devine volunteered on short notice to go on for 20 rounds with the champion. For five rounds Devine landed blow for blow. In the middle of the seventh Feltz landed several rights and lefts on the jaw, which sent the Philadelphian to the mat and his seconds threw up the sponge.

WILL TRAIN HERE.

Matty Mathews Coming to Meet Eddie Kennedy.

Matty Mathews, who meets Eddie Kennedy here November 24 or 25 in a 10-rond contest, wired Billy Corcoran last night from New York that he will leave for Pittsburgh the latter part of the week and to engage training quarters for him here. Mathews has been in training for two weeks and states that he is rounding into his old-time form, when he won the welter weight championship from Mysterious Billy Smith and Rube Ferns. Kennedy is also in the best of shape and has been in training for over two weeks.

HURRIED TRIP OF CLUB OFFICIALS

President Dreyfuss Goes to Washington and Secretary Pulliam to New York.

There was a sudden exodus of the officials of the Pittsburgh baseball club last night, when President Dreyfuss and Secretary Pulliam departed from this city in rather a hurried manner.

President Dreyfuss' destination was Washington, D. C., where he goes to help Nick Young do a little figuring on last season's average, as well as to help map out a playing schedule for next season. The summons from Uncle Nick came yesterday afternoon, and the owner of the Pittsburgh club lost no time in accepting the invitation. It seems that Mr. Young, the league secretary, has not yet recovered from that spell of sickness which overtook him last summer and has been unable to do his work. The averages of the players should have been made public some time ago, but have not yet been given out. President Dreyfuss is called on because he is an expert at figures. It is not unlikely that Mr. Young will resign as league secretary, owing to continued ill health.

The destination of Secretary Pulliam was New York, and he went there on the fastest train he could get. The secretary said that his visit was an affair entirely outside of baseball and was of a purely private nature. In these strenuous days of baseball warfare its pretty hard to keep tab on the promoters of the game and sudden journeys such as the Pittsburgh officials took last night always give rise to reports concerning serious moves in the bitter contest now on between the National and American leagues.

There were no new developments yesterday in the matter of an American league franchise for this city. The local people are still waiting patiently to hear from Ban Johnson or Charles Somers, the leaders of that league. It is known that Johnson and Somers had a conference at Cleveland on Tuesday, and it is also known that the matter of a franchise for Pittsburgh was talked over, but it is not known what result was arrived at. The local people are hopeful for a visit from Johnson this week.

READY FOR CUP RACES.

Oliver C. Iselin and Family Are Back from Europe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Mr. C. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Iselin and the Misses Iselin were passengers on the steamer Oceanic which arrived from Liverpool today. Mr. Iselin, whom the yachting world knows will be managing owner of the new yacht ordered from the Herreshoffs in defence of the Americas cup, is in the best of health. He and his family have been abroad for four months, most of the time being passed in Norway. They were only in England for a brief period.

Mr. Iselin did not see Sir Thomas Lipton while abroad, though he received an invitation to visit him just before sailing. Mr. Iselin wired his regrets from Liverpool and obtained Sir Thomas' answer at Queenstown.

Westminster's Team Won.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Nov. 12.—The Westminster second team defeated the Greenville high school here this afternoon on Athletic field by 11 to 0. This is the fifth consecutive victory for Westminster second. The features of the games were the playing of Scott and Byam for Westminster and the playing of Long and Pfeifer for Greenville. Meeder McVay and Tweedy also did good work.

NEW AMATEUR RECORD.

Mr. Billings Sent The Monk to a New Mark.

NEY YORK, Nov. 12.—C. K. G. Billings succeeded in causing a new world's amateur record to wagon to be hung up today at the Empire City track when he drove his bay gelding, The Monk, one and one-eighth miles in 2:25½, the first mile being trotted in 2:09¼.

This sterling performance was accomplished toward the close of an afternoon which was replete with stirring trials of both trotters and pacers, under the auspices of the New York Driving club, the members of which were enjoying a special matinee reunion and luncheon.

DOWN WENT CORNELL.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell in the cross-country run today on Franklin field by a score of 17 points to 19. The distance was four and one-quarter miles, with three water jumps of 13 feet each and 21 hurdles, the obstacles being similar to those used over the national steeplechase course.

The runners finished in the following order: A. C. W. Bowen (captain), Pennsylvania; W. E. Schmitt, Cornell; W. H. Woodward, Cornell; L. A. Orton, Pennsylvania; C. P. Major, Pennsylvania; H. F. Plummer, Cornell; E. C. Rutschman, Pennsylvania; T. M. Forster, Cornell. Captain Rowen led all the way and won by 150 yards. His time was 23:49.

WILKINSBURG BLOCK IS PURCHASED FOR $85,000

Mellons Said to Be Securing Large Plot in Second Avenue—Pittsburghers Invest $100,000 at South Sharon.

The John C. Wallace building, at the south corner of Wood street and Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, has been sold for $85,000. The purchaser is A. J. Puffenburg, president of the Puffenburg Furniture Company, who takes the property for an investment. The lot measures 108 feet in Wood street and 66 feet in Penn avenue, having an alley in the rear. It is improved with a three-story brick building with two stone fronts. The first floor of this is occupied by three store rooms and the upper floors as offices. The sale of this property is the largest deal in Wilkinsburg realty for a year, and with the sale of the Puffenburg block nearly opposite it in Penn avenue, two weeks ago, for $68,000, shows that interest in good business property in Wilkinsburg is increasing.

The Wallace property has a very interesting history from a real estate standpoint. It belonged to the Carrothers estate and came into the possession of John Milligan, who in 1893 sold the lot with a 12-room brick house thereon to W. C. Lyne for $9,500. He in turn sold it to Samuel W. Black for $13,000. Mr. Black cut it up in lots and sold the whole parcel to Mr. Wallace within 15 months for $25,000, the purchase at this price being then regarded as foolhardy. The present building was erected in 1895 and is one of the best renters in Wilkinsburg.

Mellons in Second Avenue Deal.

Certain facts which leaked out in realty circles yesterday confirmed the opinion held by many for some time that there is a big deal on foot in upper Second avenue. It was reported that the purchaser of the J. McGregor property, 20x80 feet, at No. 430 Second avenue, which was bought by Frank McCann recently has been sold to the Mellons for $20,000. They are also said to have purchased the D. Rhea property, 20x80 feet, at No. 432 Second avenue, for $18,000. Negotiations are also on foot for the purchase of the Kerney lots, 40x80 feet, at Nos. 434 and 436 Second avenue, for a price approximating $48,000, the reputed buyers being the Mellons. These three parcels would give the new owners a plot 80x80 feet on the south side of the avenue just above Cherry alley. In the rear of these lots is the Mrs. M. E. Verner property at Nos. 429 and 435 First avenue. This was sold several weeks ago for $45,000, but the name of the purchaser was withheld. The buy is now credited to the Mellons, and it is rumored that a large building is to be erected on the site.

Pittsburghers Buy a $100,000 Farm.

A syndicate of Pittsburghers has bought from Miller Maron a tract of 335 acres of land at South Sharon for $100,000. The details said to have been closed Monday and the utmost secrecy is being maintained by those connected with the transaction. The syndicate includes five well-known Pittsburgh men, and is said to be headed by Harry Davis of the Grand opera house. The property bought is a plot of the farming land and adjoins the holdings of the Beechwood Improvement Company, limited. Activity in the Sharon field has been almost unprecedented the past year, and with the immediate prospect of two more street railroads and more new mills, the project of this syndicate to plot the property and place it on the market in the spring looks very favorable.

Through the agency of Coulter & Kelly, Herman Koenig has bought from Price & Allman eight brick houses at the corner of Third and Talbot streets, Braddock, for $15,000. The houses contain four rooms each, are built in a row and occupy a plot 100x48 feet. The purchase was made for investment.

28 Houses Will Cost $70,000.

The South Wilmerding Land and Improvement Company has awarded the contract to John Hammerly for the erection of 28 houses on its plan to cost $70,000. The houses will be five and six-room frame dwellings and will be started at once. Bids will be received in a few weeks by the secretary of the company, H. M. McKean, for about 70 more similar houses, which will be built either this winter or in the spring.

The Standard Realty Company sold for Holland Fletcher to James Ward two residences at Nos. 366 and 368 California avenue, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $30,000. The houses are nearly new brick dwellings and contain nine rooms each. They stand on two lots, 25x140 feet each, facing the east side of the avenue, near Halsey place. The sale is the largest made in this locality for some time.

John W. Wright has bought from Lewis P. Fawcett an improved property 68x120 feet on the east side of North Linden avenue, near Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $15,000.

The Groveton Company has purchased from Edwin L. Mattern 14.04 acres of land in Robinson township for $16,800. The land lies near the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks and will be plotted and sold in lots.

Leases Show Advance of 360 Per Cent.

The question of leases in the downtown district is becoming more interesting every week, especially to the older real estate owners and dealers in the city. The sharp advance that are being made in the price of new leases signed cannot but have an uplifting influence on the value of property. This advance, which would seem sufficient to make a business man despair in some cases, is being met in most cases cheerfully, and the lessee considers himself very lucky if he can hold his old location. The stiff advance is not confined to the principal business streets, nor is it as large there as it is in the streets used for wholesale or warehouse purposes. Second avenue is one of the thoroughfares where the changes in the property revenue are most noticeable. Within two weeks a business property in that street near Wood street, on which the old 10-year lease will soon expire, was re-leased for a short term of years at $5,500 a year. The old rent was $1,800, showing an increase in the income to the owner of 360 per cent. The owners of another business property near by, which was leased last year for a short term at $3,600, were recently offered $6,000 a year for the block. Other similar leases in the lower streets are being signed and there is a constant stream of inquiries coming into brokers' offices for properties of this sort from outside parties.

Correct Price Was $42,500.

By a deed registered yesterday it appears that the price which Robert C. Hall paid forthe Shaner property at the northwest corner of Fourth avenue and Decatur street was $42,500, instead of $44,000, as first reported. The lot measures 40x90 feet, making the rate of sale $1,062 a foot for the Fourth avenue frontage. The deal was made through the Union Realty Company.

The deed was also registered for the sale of the Robert S. Wilkison farm in the Nineteenth ward to the Manor Real Estate and Trust Company, purchasing agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The consideration was $40,000.

Architects E. M. Butz & Co., Limited, have plans for a three-story apartment house to be erected in St. Clair street, East End, for John C. Corley, at a cost of $30,000.

A. S. Ross has started the erection of 12 frame houses in Snowden street, near Brushton avenue, Brushton, to cost $3,000 each.

Permits aggregating $134,000.00 were granted in Pittsburgh yesterday, showing that the fine weather is having a beneficial effect upon the new building projects which have been suspended. If the winter should happen to be an open one, architects predict that there will be a much larger amount of building done than for years. Yesterday's permits follow:

David P. Black, two-story and attic brick dwelling, Penn and Murtland avenues, Twenty-first ward, $65,000; F. J. WIDOW WELL CARED FOR.

Good Return from Life Insurance of Prominent Philadelphian.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—The late Archibald N. Waterhouse of Philadelphia, who died suddenly last Friday, held policies amounting to $80,000 in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The forms of insurance under which these policies were issued were so selected that his widow will receive at once $20,000 in cash and an annual income of $3,000 for 20 years, and if she is living at the end of that period she will receive $60,000 in cash, making the total amount received under these policies $140,000, on which the premiums paid by Mr. Waterhouse amounted to only $27,492.20.

Of the total amount of this insurance $60,000 was taken under a form of policy devised and introduced by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and known as the 5 Per Cent Debenture Policy. These policies will pay his widow $2,500 a year for 20 years, and at the end of 20 years $50,000 in cash if she is then living. Should she die before the expiration of that time $50,000 will be paid her estate. On these policies ten premiums of $1,955 each had been paid.

Another policy held by Mr. Waterhouse was a 5 Per Cent Twenty-year Gold Bond Policy for $10,000, on which he had paid six annual payments of $448.70 each. This form of policy was also devised and introduced by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and in settlement of this policy the company will issue ten one-thousand dollar 5 per cent Twenty-year Gold Bonds, the income from which will be $500 a year for 20 years. The face of the policy, $10,000, will be paid at the end of 20 years. Mr. Waterhouse held another policy for $20,000, on which he had paid only seven annual payments of $750 each. Under this policy $20,000 in cash will be paid his widow at once.

MAKING HATS TO ORDER—Our milliners have been so successful in producing just the right kind of trimmed hats to accentuate the good points and subdue the defects in customers' heads and faces, yet keeping well within the lines of the accepted millinery mode of the season, that our workroom is now crowded with orders. SOCIETY

MISS ADELE WILCOX and David Aiken Reed were married yesterday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement H. Wilcox of No. 115 West Seventy-fifth street, New York, and the bridegroom, a Princeton man, class of 1900, is the son of the Hon. and Mrs. James B. Reed of Pittsburgh.

The wedding took place in the fashionable Christ Episcopal church, Broadway and Seventy-first street, New York, at 4 o'clock. The Right Rev. D. Huntington, bishop of Central New York, officiated, assisted by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Strong. White chrysanthemums in clusters and palms and vines were used in the church decorations, with clusters of the flowers on the pews.

The bride was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Katherine Reed, sister of the bridegroom. Her gown was pink crepe de chine, and she wore a large hat of pink chiffon with pink roses. Instead of the conventional bouquet she carried a muff of pink chiffon. The bridesmaids were Miss Ballard, Miss Edith Talcott and Miss Agatha Waters. Very dainty gowns of white crepe de chine were worn by these young women, with large hats of white felt. They carried muffs of white tulle. The bride's gown was of white satin, covered with white tulle and drapings of point duchess lace and a court train of white satin. Her veil was of tulle with a spray of orange blossoms, and she wore the gift of the bridegroom, a diamond brooch, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

William F. Robinson, a classmate of the bridegroom, was best man, and T. Ferdinand Wilcox, James W. Long, Joseph P. Guffey, James H. Reed, Jr., D. Bernard Phillip, Claude Kuhle, George F. Lathrop and Thomas F. Stevenson were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox have a wide acquaintance, and the reception following at their home was very large. The drawing room was decorated with white chrysanthemums with a bower of palms and flowers for the bridal party. The supper room was in pink.

Among the guests were the Hon. and Mrs. James H. Reed, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones Talcott, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mason Day, Mrs. David Aiken, Jr., Miss Grace Aiken, Miss Rachel Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Westinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Gallaher, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Quinby and Mrs. Charles Acker.

Mr. Reed gave his bachelor dinner Tuesday evening to his best man and ushers at the Hotel Manhattan, entertaining also other guests, including Frank Jarvis of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Schenck. The newly-wedded pair will enjoy a six weeks tour and then take up their permanent residence in Pittsburgh, being at home after January 1.

Dougan—Paxton.

The most prominent social function of the season in Washington, Pa., was the marriage last evening of Miss Mary Acheson Dougan, daughter of Mrs. Henry Dougan, and William P. Paxton, a prominent young business man of Washington. The wedding was brilliant in all its appointments and was attended by hundreds of guests. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. William E. Slemmons, officiating. The church was handsomely decorated in white and yellow chrysanthemums. The bride was given away by her brother, James A. Dougan. The bridal party was made up of Miss Flora Brady and Miss Anne Dougan, bridesmaids; Miss Harriet Reed, maid of honor; Misses Frances Dougan and Mary Louise Brady, flower girls, and J. W. Paxton, best man, and the ushers, James Duncan, G. G. Oliver, G. L. Acheson and Andrew Duncan, all of Washington. The bride wore a handsome gown of white pineapple cloth and carried white chrysanthemums tied with white chiffon. The honor maids and flower girls were gowned in white organdie with liberty silk sashes. Miss Reed, the honor maid, wore white mousseline de soie over white taffeta, and trimmed with lace medallions. All carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Acheson played the wedding march. Immediately after the ceremony, a small reception was held for the bridal party at the residence of the bride's mother in South Lincoln street. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton left last night for a wedding trip and on their return will live in Washington. The bride is one of Washington's most prominent girls, a daughter of the late Henry Dougan, a prominent attorney, and a cousin of Congressman E. F. Acheson. She is a graduate of the Washington seminary. William P. Paxton is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college and vice president of the Hazel Glass Company at this place.

About 100 guests were present, the festivities being conducted in the home of the bride's parents in Oakland square, and in the adjoining house, occupied by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Blackburn. The porches were enclosed with glass, lined with tropical plants and carpeted. The bride was attended by a maid of honor, a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Eleanor Morrow, and James Ward was the best man. Two brothers of the bridegroom, John P. Morrow and Hugh B. Morrow, were the ushers. The bride wore a handsome gown of white silk and mousseline, trimmed with Irish pointe lace. Her bouquet consisted of lilies of the valley. Miss Bessie Purvis and William D. Sutton were united in marriage at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the bride's home in Beaver, by the Rev. J. S. McKee, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. The wedding was a very quiet affair, none but the members of the two families being present. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Purvis of Beaver and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sutton of Butler, and is at present yardmaster of the Pennsylvania railroad at Sharpsburg. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Sutton will reside at Sharpsburg.

Returned from Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDowell returned last week from their wedding trip and are staying with Prof. and Mrs. Brashear, the grandparents of Mr. McDowell. Mrs. Brashear and her daughter, Mrs. McDowell, the mother of the bridegroom, will entertain shortly in honor of the young couple. The bride was Miss Jean Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Duncan, of Perrysville avenue, Allegheny.

WOMAN IN THE WORLD

One of the mourners at the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton the other day was the first woman ordained as a minister in this country, Mrs. Antoinette Louisa Brown Blackwell of Henrietta, N. Y. Mrs. Blackwell is now in her 78th year. She was one of the pioneer workers for the rights of women, including suffrage, and endured with them the usual fate of innovators. According to Harper's Encyclopaedia of United States History, she was graduated at Oberlin college, O., in 1847, and at the Theological school at Oberlin in 1850. She began in 1846 to speak in public, and first preached in 1848. She became the regular pastor of an orthodox Congregational church at South Butler and Savannah, New York, at the age of 27, but resigned a year afterward. Later she adopted the Unitarian belief. She is the author of several works of note.

To enhance the beauty of a pink cheek and to brighten the luster of a brilliant eye is the mission of the beauty patch. The revival of this charming bygone fashion is due to the fact that Queen Alexandra wore a small patch at the time of the coronation. The mode was taken up by court dames and now it has reached America. When Miss Alice Roosevelt returned to Washington it was noticed that she wore a star-shaped beauty patch just below the left eye—a coquettish touch which was exceedingly becoming to the president's daughter. Miss Leiter, who was recently in Washington en route to the coronation durbar at Delhi, India, also wears a beauty spot, and it is predicted that this custom of the seventeenth century belles will be as prevalent at the capital this winter as it has been all summer and autumn in London. The beauty spot is an old, old fashion. Venus may have been the first woman to wear one, as she is said to have had a mole on her cheek, and no doubt at times she hid the defect under some artfully contrived covering which was in vogue before the days of court plaster.

Thirty-five miles from Boston, in the town of Groton, there opened about six weeks ago a School of Horticulture and Landscape Gardening for Women, the only one of exactly its character in the country, although for two years in New York work along somewhat similar lines has been done.

The object of the school is to help women to help themselves. Women have made a success of agriculture and of gardening in the past, it is true, but have felt the need of training, which is as urgent in this occupation as in any other. There are a few occupations which give more delight intellectually and otherwise, besides being more healthful, than that of horticulture, and given the right sort and amount of training, there is no reason why a woman should not make a good living at it if she want to.

The course includes horticulture, agriculture, botany, greenhouse work, and work in the flower, fruit and vegetable gardens, economic entomology and ornithology, agricultural chemistry, plane and solid geometry, surveying, free-hand and mechanical drawing, landscape gardening and garden design. The course is two years of two terms each.

It is not generally known that some of the most stylish Parisian society women are dressed by contract. By this is meant that they pay a certain fixed sum each year to one of the famous makers of gowns, with the understanding that they will be supplied with all gowns required by them during that time. Should an undue member be needed, all above a certain limit of value will be charged for as extra. That does not include hats and lingerie, though it is quite probable that in the future establishments may be set up where the lady of wealth may present herself so many times during a season and have her entire outfit prescribed, as it were, by one who has the art of dressing down to a fine point, and the prescription filled by the maker, who foreses a combination unknown where every need for dress for women's outfit may be supplied intelligently.

A writer in a French review gives a rapid word-picture of Countess Tolstoy: "One cannot help seeing that here is a woman of the world, affable, gifted with good sense, still youthful (she is 25 years younger than her husband), and while quite able to hold her own with the great man, holding loyally to his side in the moment of peril. The whole woman is summed up in a phrase once attributed to her. 'When I first married Count Tolstoy I was very simple in my habits, and I always traveled second class; but as his wife he compelled me to go first. Now he expects me to travel third; I myself prefer my old mode of going second class.'"

The Countess Tolstoy.

Countess Tolstoy listens to her husband's religious views in silence; she has remained in spite of the excommunication of Tolstoy, sincerely Greek-Orthodox, and she refused to copy, when acting as her husband's secretary, a passage in "Resurrection" dealing with the mass of which she disapproved.

The quiet, unassuming personality of Miss Helen Gould permits her to mingle with the public unnoticed, and the latter would often be surprised to know that the brown-haired little woman whom it has passed with scarcely a glance was one in whom it felt the keenest interest. To be unobserved is regarded by her as the most desirable of all conditions. She cherishes an antipathy for the camera that amounts almost to a mania, and is ever on the alert when there is occasion for the prevalence of the camera fiend, says the Pilgrim.

The Personality of Miss Helen Gould.

In stature Miss Gould is not quite five feet four inches. Her hair is brown and very abundant. Her eyes are dark and soft and earnest, and her face denotes the keen intensity of her nature. Her features are regular, and render her face beautiful with the beauty of goodness and truth. Her smile illumines, and it is the kindest smile imaginable. Her voice is low and musical, and her manner all that is unaffected and friendly. Her interests are with the real things of life, and her personal effort in behalf of the poor and needy far overreaches her strength, and is the cause of constant solicitude of her brothers and sisters, by all of whom she is adored. The custodianship to which her fortune has arrogated her is not one which she either sets aside or deputes to others, and every hour of every day in the year is listed to correspond with some duty that awaits it.

In new hosiery there are fine silk and lisle hose with incrustations of lace, while others have railing flowers wrought in the embroidery. A pretty pair of black silk hose shows an embroidered white fleur-de-lis, combined with a tracing of white lace. They would be suitable for wear with toe slippers of velvet, suede or patent leather. White silk clock embroidery on black hose is one of the most attractive styles.

By the way, the tail of lace or ribbon or feather hanging over the back of the hat will very soon expire from overpopularity; it is simply ubiquitous, and the turbans with their natty outline seem quite a relief, although even they have sometimes a dangle of passementerie or chenille. Indeed, cord passementerie is quite a feature of the turban, and just the same sort of motif that we sport on our little coats is affected also by the turban.

RAILROAD SIGNAL ENGINEERS END SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

Yesterday morning ended the formal meetings of the Railway Signaling club, which convened Tuesday at the Hotel Schenley. The papers presented yesterday included one entitled "Good Practice in the Use of the Distant Signal," by W. H. Elliott, signal engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and the report of the committee on organization, made by E. B. Ashly.

The following were elected officers for the coming year: President, H. C. Hope, superintendent of telegraph of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha; vice president, J. C. McCook, signal engineer of the Michigan Central, Detroit; secretary and treasurer, B. B. Adams, associate editor of the Railroad Gazette, New York. The officers and C. C. Rosenberg, the retiring president, compose the executive committee. Detroit was selected for the meeting next November.

The club received an increase of 80 in its membership, making a total membership of about 300.

The trip of inspection yesterday afternoon was over the Ft. Wayne from Pittsburgh to Rochester, where the bridge signals over the four-track system are now in use. Today the party will visit the great Union station yards, completed within a year, and the plant of the Union Switch & Signal Company at Swissvale, where the signal systems in the Union station yards and the South Terminal yards at Boston were made. Later a visit will be paid to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yards, and an inspection made of the automatic block signal system in operation on that road. This evening the greater portion of the visiting delegates will leave.

TO INCREASE CAPITAL.

Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company Calls Special Meeting to Vote on Question.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A circular letter has been issued to stockholders of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, calling for a special meeting February 10, at which it is proposed to increase the capital stock by authorizing an issue of additional common shares so that the entire capital stock shall be $100,000,000.

At this meeting the question of acquiring the franchises and property of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad Company will be considered.

The directors have decided that stockholders shall be invited to subscribe to the increased stock to the extent of 15 per cent of their present holdings.

WANT SCALPERS' SCALPS.

Determined Effort Started by Railroads to Stop Ticket Brokerage.

As a result of the meeting of the Central Passenger association in Chicago yesterday to Chicago yesterday, a war against ticket brokers is certain to be waged west of Pittsburgh and Buffalo and east of Chicago and St. Louis in order to start which in relentlessness will far surpass any previous campaign. The railroad companies have decided to put Pinkerton detectives upon the trail of the "scalpers." Where the state laws allow the ticket broker to carry on the business his office will be watched for illegalities such as counterfeiting signatures for mileage books, changes of dates on tickets and the other tricks with which the broker is charged.

A plan of organization for conducting this fight has been prepared by Commissioner Donald of the Central and Chairman Eben E. McLeod of the Western Passenger associations. The railroad companies place the number of professional ticket brokers in the United States at 3,000. There is just one state in which the broker is scarce. That is Pennsylvania. In no city is he a rarer article than in Pittsburgh. There is not a single ticket broker's signboard on the streets, and the little work of the sort which is carried on is too small to affect the revenues of the railroad companies.

INTEREST IN MEETING.

B. & O.'s Annual on Monday Likely to Develop Much of Importance.

The coming annual meeting of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, which will be held on Monday in Baltimore, is awaking more than the usual interest. The fact that Baltimore stockholders will attend in person and ask representation on the board as Baltimoreans adds not a little to the evidences of feeling which Baltimore has exhibited ever since the present management of the road took charge.

President Loree will have to report the best year in the history of the system. The showing will be one that can be equaled by few roads in the country. The gross earnings amounted to $55,448,108. Of this sum $38,375,631 was from freight. The operating expenses were $32,888,564; taxes, $1,047,035; interest and rentals, $9,207,789. This leaves $10,324,882 net earnings. From this sum $2,600,000 was appropriated for improvements, $1,303,937 was charged to miscellaneous expenses, and $5,919,924 paid in dividends on the common and preferred stocks. The improvement money is expected to reduce the cost of operation materially. The company now has increased its stock by $42,500,000, and much of the receipts on that account is to be spent on the lines both east and west of Pittsburgh as well as in the city proper.

Three Big Wabash Bridges.

In the attention paid to the two great bridges of the new Wabash extension to Pittsburgh over the Monongahela and Ohio rivers, three other bridges of importance on that line have been in little trouble. They, however, have been building right along. Over Georges run, six miles west of the city, a viaduct 90 feet high and 600 feet long is now well under way. The traveler is already in place and the steel is being erected. For the Whiskey run viaduct the steel is now being shipped. The magnificent brick and stone arch at Lessdale, seven miles west of Pittsburgh, is finished. It is now being filled in by the contractors, Moran & Co. The arch is 80 feet and the barrel is 135 feet long.

Laying Rails on Brownsville Line.

The work of laying the rails on the Brownsville extension of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie has been started from Fayette City. There is every indication that the first of the year will see Lake Erie trains running to Brownsville. The length of the extension is 10 miles. The work has been unusually difficult. One section at Redstone Junction proved a surprise to the contractors, and delayed the work several months longer than was expected. The cost of the work has been about $500,000. On this single track about 2,000 tons of steel rails, weighing 80 pounds to the yard, will be laid.

RAILROAD NOTES.

President F. D. Underwood denies the report that the Erie will build a tunnel into New York like that of the Pennsylvania.

The Baldwins have received orders for six locomotives from the Western Maryland and two from the Ann Arbor, both recently purchased Wabash lines.

The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company yesterday elected George V. Massey of Delaware general solicitor, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James A. Logan.

Gross earnings of all railroads reporting for October show an increase of 48 per cent over last year, and 14.2 over 1900. The roads embrace more than one-third of the total mileage of the United States.

W. D. Buss of the office of Assistant Passenger Agent C. L. Kimball of the Pennsylvania lines west, at Cleveland, will succeed Otis E. Robinson as assistant city ticket agent in that city. Mr. Otis becomes traveling passenger agent at Youngstown, as announced in yesterday's Gazette.

Arrangements are making by which the Big Four will furnish the connecting link between the Frisco system and its new line, the Chicago & Eastern Illinois. The Big Four will be used between St. Louis and Paris, Ill. The Big Four is also to build 50 miles east to relieve a bottleneck at Litchfield and Mitchell, near St. Louis, to save 12 miles in the distance.

Daniel Hardy has been appointed division superintendent of the Denver & Rio Grande, with headquarters at Salida, Col. Mr. Hardy recently resigned the general superintendency of the Missouri Pacific. He is a native of Pittsburgh, and for many years worker on the Panhandle and the Lake Erie here as trainman and finally as trainmaster. The general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande, J. M. Herbert, is also a Pittsburgher.

POLICE ASSERT THEY VICTIMIZED MANY

George Bristol and Wife Arrested for False Pretense in Selling Piano.

George Bristol and wife of No. 246 Lehigh avenue were arrested yesterday by Detectives Waggoner and Delehanty and taken to Central police station. A charge of false pretense was made before Magistrate McKenna by M. Jacobs of No. 228 Ophelia street. The defendats gave bail for a hearing this morning.

The Bristols recently came from New York, took apartments in Lehigh avenue and furnished them handsomely. They inserted an advertisement in the papers that they were compelled to leave the city and had a piano worth $400 which they would sell for $160. They had 29 cheap pianos in a storage house. Jacobs called at the Lehigh avenue house, and Mrs. Bristol told him the piano was a present from her brother, but she did not care to carry it about the country.

After the sale had been made Jacobs asserts that Bristol sent to him a piano from the warehouse, instead of the one he had purchased. The instrument, he says, cost about $60, while the one shown him was a valuable instrument.

The police say that the Bristols have worked this game on many people and have disposed of 50 cheap pianos. They have eight still in the storage house and ten in transit from New York over the Pennsylvania railroad. Bristol is 34 years old and his wife 32.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

An Interesting and Entertaining Group of Attractions Promised In Local Playhouses.

The announcement that Manager Davis made regarding "In the Palace of the King" has induced the largest advance sale the Grand has ever known in the same length of time. This will be the first time Marion Crawford's dramatized novel appears in a stock theater. Manager Davis made special arrangements with Liebler & Co., the managers for Miss Viola Allen, and the identical production intact, as it was given at the Theater Republic, New York, by Miss Allen, will be shipped in three special cars to Pittsburgh. This includes the same costumes, scenery, furniture, costly hangings, and general effects employed by Miss Allen.

The imported English spectacle, "Beauty and the Beast," has made a prodigious hit at the Alvin, where it will stay all next week. The scenic beauty, novelty features and comedy of this entertainment are the talk of the town. It is a marvel of splendor, music and fun.

"The Fatal Wedding," conceded to be Theodore Remer's best play, will come to the Bijou next week with a strong cast and a wealth of new scenery. The play is intensely and widely interesting.

A melodrama of western life by Lincoln J. Carter, entitled "The Flaming Arrow," will again occupy the stage of the Empire theater, beginning November 17. The play will serve to introduce the only Indian actress in the world, "Go Won Go Mohawk," who claims to be a direct descendant of the royal family of the once famous tribe whose name she bears.

The characters are all in the hands of capable actors and the scenic investure is said to be especially magnificent.

Manager Davis has a combination of headliners at the Avenue next week, where the strongest vaudeville bill yet announced in this city will be given continuously from 1:30 until 11 p. m. Extraordinary interest centers in the appearance of Miss Laura Biggar and her company in a sketch especially written for her, entitled, "A Stranger." This piece is from the pen of Sidney Wilmer, who wrote, "A Stranger in a Strange Land." An innovation at the Avenue, beginning with next week, will be 30 minutes of grand opera, introducing such popular operatic favorites as Clara Lane, Bessie Tannehill, George Tolliman and Charles Drew. They will be seen in a condensed version of Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana."

One of the largest companies ever brought to Pittsburgh comes to the Duquesne theater next week. The list of entertainers includes Valerie Bergers & Co., Filson and Errol, Charles Grapevine & Co., Bellman and Moore, four Nelson comiques, the Garrisons, Falke and Semon, Barney Reynolds and the Kinetograph.

One of the most popular burlesquers that comes to the Academy is Miss Rose Sydell and her London Belles. This attraction is better than ever. The company is on the farce comedy order. It has three acts, with the olio acts intermingled throughout the show.

A BULL DOG

Is Easier to Shake Off Than the Coffee Grip.

A lady of St. Paul, Minn., never drank anything but cold water until she was married and then commenced to drink coffee.

She says: "About one year after our marriage, my husband began to complain of a distress in his stomach and I had such dizzy spells after each meal that we had to see a doctor. We drank coffee three times a day, but did not imagine that coffee was causing all this distress. The doctor said both our livers were out of order, gave us some medicine, and told us that we ought to break off drinking coffee. We stopped it for a while, but missed the hot drink so much we went back to coffee. In five years' time I lost a complexion that was faultless and gained a very bad stomach, and my husband's stomach was ruined. He thought he had cancer of the stomach, or something worse, but we had formed the habit of coffee drinking, and like drunkards found it no easy matter to break off although we knew it was killing both of us.

"We kept a grocery store at the time, and a lady called one day and asked for Postum Food Coffee, saying, 'My children like it, will not drink anything else, and I know it is good for them because they never have trouble with their stomachs.' This interested me, and I told her about my bad stomach. She told me how to make Postum and we began its use ourselves.

"After drinking it three times a day for a week, I felt much better and my husband declared that he felt like a new man. We have drank Postum for four years and have never had one particle of stomach trouble since, and I have lost that sallow, yellow color I so much disliked, and the whites of my eyes are as clear as ever again. I know it is because we left off drinking coffee and drank Postum. I can eat anything and everything, and never know I have a stomach. My husband used to say I would ruin our coffee trade because I told all my friends what Postum had done for us." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A LITTLE BETTER TONE TO STOCK MARKET

After Heavy Liquidation and Extreme Weakness, the Market Turned and Closed Firm---Local Securities Active and Weak.

By JOHN G. BAGLLIN, Financial Editor.

For an hour after the opening of the eastern stock market yesterday it looked as though there was no bottom to prices. Fully 400,000 shares changed hands during this hour, and more than a score of active stocks sold below the low point of Tuesday, in some instances being the lowest of the year. Baltimore & Ohio broke below par, Union Pacific to within a small fraction of par, Reading to 56, Erie to 33, Amalgamated Copper to 56½, and the United States Steel stocks to the lowest prices of the year. In Southern Pacific the flood of liquidation was noticeable, the stock breaking to 62⅝. On the curb there was a drop in Rock Island securities, and Standard Oil declined 5 points in the bid prices. Just before noon there was a jump of 9 per cent in Northwest, and in other parts of the list it was apparent that stocks were being taken freely, no matter how large the offerings. There was a pause in the downward movement, then a fair-sized rally. For the greater part of the afternoon trading was active and feverish, but bear raiders did not appear to make so much progress in their attacks. In the closing half hour the whole list turned firm, and a strong rally was in progress when the market closed. The rise was in the face of higher rates for call money, which at one time reached 7 per cent. The tone was considerably better, and there were more confident expressions that the worst was over. A number of roads reported handsome gains for the first week in November, and the general run of news was favorable.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

That the United States Steel stocks should sell down to the lowest prices of the year in the face of the official figures made public of the condition of the great corporation as of the 1st inst., is proof that the weakness was not due to industrial conditions, present or prospective, and therefore must be owing exclusively to money market conditions as they effect holders of stock carried on margin. It is reasonable to infer that last year while the underwriting syndicate was making a market for its surplus holdings of securities obtained in the deal, the most favorable showing possible was made as to earnings and financial condition. The figures published yesterday as of November 1, 1902, compare with the corresponding period last year, when the business of the corporation was more than fulfilling the promises of the prospectus. They show that during the year cash assets increased more than $26,000,000 while current liabilities decreased more than $12,000,000, the net increase in current assets being more than $38,000,000. The profits for September and October aggregated more than $24,130,000, an increase of $2,700,000 over the corresponding months last year. So much for results to date. As to the future, the company reports unfilled orders on its books for nearly 5,000,000 tons, as compared with 2,831,592 tons at the corresponding date a year ago, an increase of 2,137,000 tons. Altogether aside from the stock market view of the situation, this is a remarkably showing of the condition of the iron and steel industry. It is beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and the enormous increase in unfilled orders seems to carry a strong refutation of recent reports that the iron market has passed the crest-wave of prosperity and was now on the down turn.

The local stock market again displayed effects of urgent liquidation, and during the early part of the day was quite weak. In some instances there was unmistakable evidence of the execution of stop-loss orders, and in others it was equally plain that brokers has a fair amount of discretionary buying orders. The condition of the market caused violent and at times rapid fluctuations. River Coal common, which led in point of activity, received some support, and it closed with a net gain of ⅝ over the previous day. The preferred remained dull and about steady at 39¼@39½. Pittsburgh Coal common and preferred were also dull within a narrow range of fluctuations. The heaviest pressure at the opening was on Westinghouse Electric second preferred, which broke to 96, but it subsequently recovered to 98½ and closed with a net loss of only ¾ for the day. Window Glass common declined to 49½, but later recovered all the loss and closed firm at 50⅝ bid. The story of the board was that an agreement had been reached with the jobbers' association whereby cutting prices would cease. Crucible Steel was quite weak in the early dealings, selling down to 18½, the lowest of the year, but it rallied to 18⅝ and closed at 18⅛ bid. The preferred declined to 83½, a net loss of 1 per cent for the day. United States Steel sympathized with the early weakness in the East and declined to 35½, but closed at 36¼ bid. The preferred declined to 83⅜ bid, but closed at 84¼ bid. There was a better feeling in the coal and steel stocks at the close, and there was some bidding for buyers' 30-day options at considerable advances over the cash price. The same was true of Window Glass, which advanced to 51½ bid, buyer 30 days. There was rather heavy liquidation in National Fire Proofing preferred, which broke to 36½, but closed at 37¼ bid. The common remained weak and closed offered at 26¾, the low point of the day. The preferred also closed firmer at 49¼ bid. The Brewing shares were only fractionally changed. Westinghouse Airbrake closed 2 points lower at 173.

In the latter part of the session the violent fluctuations in the trust company shares attracted considerable attention. Colonial Trust broke from 580 to 570 and closed at a net loss of 15 points from Tuesday's close. Real Estate Trust opened lower at 290, late in the day broke to 284½ on the marketing of 10-share lots, and recovered to 290 bid at the close, a net decline of 12 points. Prudential Trust was 10 per cent lower at 140. Commonwealth Trust declined 8 per cent to 230 and closed at 225 bid. Columbia National bank sold at 460, a decline of 5, and German Savings and Trust was also 5 per cent lower at 165. Guarantee Title and Trust declined to 138, and South Side Trust to 100¾. American Trust was the strongest of the group, advancing to and closing at 145.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

National Biscuit common sold down from 44 to 40 on four transactions, and recovered all the loss on the next sale.

After the first sharp slump, the eastern market advanced more easily than it declined. The buying in a number of specialties was thought to be better than at any time for more than a month.

Conservative Wall street houses were inclined to treat as absurd the reports that Standard Oil and other eastern interests were trying to "break" some of the western speculators, or rather eliminate them from the situation.

The net earnings of Southern Pacific for September increased $488,000.

The gross earnings of Missouri Pacific for the first week in November increased $41,000, Norfolk & Western for the first week in November show an average net increase of 7.46.

The Manhattan annual report showed surplus earnings over dividends paid of $1,406,082, an increase of $881,970.

Northwest, which broke to 212 on Tuesday, yesterday opened at 215 and jumped to 224. It was rumored that the Vanderbilts had taken over a block of 20,000 shares from the interests which had pulled the stock to 200 earlier in the year. The upward movement, however, was probably based upon the announcement that the stockholders would hold a special meeting in February to vote upon a proposed increase in the capital, present holders to be given the privilege of subscribing at par for 15 per cent of the stock held by them.

Of the $1,000,000 gold arrived at San Francisco, $500,000 was immediately transferred to New York.

On the curb Rock Island common declined from 47 to 42, but closed at 46½@46⅝; the preferred declined 10, but closed at 74⅜@74⅝; the bonds declined 10 to 85, rallied to 86 and closed at 85¾@86½.

On the Pittsburgh exchange 23 stocks closed at net declines, 9 at net advances and 5 remained unchanged. There were 275 separate transactions in 35 securities.

At the close of the market $1 was bid for 1,000 shares Window Glass, buyer 30 days, and 51½ for 100 shares for the same option.

Ohio Fuel Supply was offered at 28½. Philadelphia Company new 5s were quoted at 104¾ bid.

Diamond Savings bank was quoted at 255 bid, Cosmopolitan at 105 bid, and South Side Trust at 100 bid.

No very large blocks of stock changed hands on the local board yesterday. Among the largest single transactions were 500 shares Fire Proofing, Robinson Bros. to Hawrood and 5 to 500 shares United States Steel, Schmidt to Sproul & Co.; 440 shares Westinghouse Electric, Robinson Bros. to McMullin; 350 shares Philadelphia Company, Blake & Robinson to Robinson Bros. The last named firm sold about 1,000 shares Fire Proofing preferred to various buyers.

The rally in Crucible Steel common at the close was started by one prominent house bidding 18 for 1,000 shares. The bidding on regular lots immediately advanced to 18⅝, and the close was at 18⅝ bid.

There was evidently some manipulation in Real Estate Trust during the late trading. Small lots of the stock were offered down rapidly until 10 shares changed hands at 284½. A few minutes later the same seller was bidding for 100 shares, a sale occurred at 288, and the stock closed at 290 bid, making the "round trip," as it is called, or in other words, recovering to the opening price. Westinghouse Electric, Crucible Steel and Pittsburgh Coal also made round trips during the day.

United States Fire Proofing bonds were offered on the exchange at 100.

Earnings of Allegheny Valley railroad for September increased $48,598. Expenses increased $45,320. Net earnings increased $5,208. For nine months ending September 30, gross earnings increased $1,094,964. Expenses increased $531,067, net earnings decreased $70,-103.

Chicago dispatch: "We have no views on the stock market and can't help what the securities are doing," said an officer of the American Can Company, "but it may be truthfully stated that from a standpoint of earnings the preferred, which pulled the stock to 70 earlier in the year. The upward movement, however, was probably based upon the announcement that the stockholders would hold a special meeting in February to vote upon a proposed increase in the capital, present holders to be given the privilege of subscribing at par for 15 per cent of the stock held by them.

Of the $1,000,000 gold arrived at San Francisco, $500,000 was immediately transferred to New York.

On the curb Rock Island common declined from 47 to 42, but closed at 46½@46⅝; the preferred declined 10, but closed at 74⅜@74⅝; the bonds declined

MARKET IS DRAGGING IN MANY STEEL LINES

Round Premiums, Which Have Been Paid on Heavy Orders for Plates, Are No Longer Offered Except for Prompt Business.

The market in nearly all lines of iron and steel production, except pig iron, is dragging. Despite the radical price reduction of the American Tin Plate Company, buyers are unaccountably holding off, although not in anticipation of still lower prices. The rush of the independent tube mills to secure business at almost any price has disturbed this market, and the conservative leading producers are holding their customers by meeting prices with their old and heavy contract buyers. On merchant pipe the net prices are being shaded from 5 to 10 per cent under the quotations which the leading producer allows to stand.

In steel plates, which since early in the year developed from the weakest line of finished materials to one of the strongest, and brought out premiums from $4 to $8 a ton over the price of $22 a ton, which the steel corporation is holding open, there is now opportunity to place at mills which have been getting the higher prices some new business, for delivery starting early next year at the base price of the plate association. The steel bar market is also quiet and there is room for business with delivery 60 days ahead at base prices.

No Rush Just Now.

Even in structural material there is now not the rush to place new business that there has been, although makers have booked business which will carry them for five and six months. In billets and sheet bars there is very little buying, and domestic Bessemer billets can be readily secured at $28 to $29 at mills.

Failure of the low price on tin plate to bring a rush of new business is only partially accounted for. The jobbers are loaded with stocks which were put in during a period of heavy buying, a short time before the reduction, and when it was supposed that the company would hold its price.

The general weakness in the iron and steel market is entirely due to the overproduction in finished lines, which naturally works back against the high prices of raw and semi-finished material, regardless of the policy of the steel corporation to keep these prices high and meet the market in finished lines.

In wire and nails there is now heavy buying, but producers declare this to be not unusual at this period of the year. There is one singular contradictory circumstance in the price of rods being held high while many of the finishing mills are down. These prices, however, are purely nominal, so far as the wire mills are concerned, for they can not afford to buy them with the low prices on wire and wire nails ruling.

General Strength Scarce.

That the general strength of the iron and steel market is to be little disturbed is brought out by the tremendous business which the rail producers have taken for next year's delivery. In this market the buyers are simply placing their contracts for their needs, knowing that there is no good in waiting for the existing prices will rule for all of next year. Some of the mills have sold their entire output for next year, and the others can not touch new business ahead of September.

Another thing which will check anything like a slump, is the great scarcity of pig iron. The furnaces will end the year with 40 per cent of their contracts unfilled and this will throw things just so much back next year. So it is that the steel corporation, with the other buyers, will have to take tardy deliveries on their iron purchases, and the orders which it has placed for delivery in the first quarter of next year will have to be carried forward. These conditions handicap the negotiations of the corporation for its additional outside supply needed in next year. There is an unauthorized report that the corporation has cut in half the 300,000 tons that it was dealing for before, so as to get the contract price at a figure under $21 50 demanded by the furnacemen.

No Coke at Furnaces.

There is still no coke at the merchant furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, and the deliveries to the independent furnacemen in two weeks past have not been much above 50 per cent of their requirements, with only about half six of the merchant furnaces operating, and the worst of it is that there is no promise of relief unless the steel corporation, in return for the furnacemen accepting its pig iron order, agrees to increase the coke shipments to the independent pig iron people instead of taking nearly all the coke to its own stacks. The car shortage is felt at finishing mills and all around.

Most of the contracts for furnace coke have been placed for next year, the maximum price being $4 a ton at the ovens. Foundry coke contracts for the first half of next year have been closed at all the way from $4 50 to $5 50. Some small lots of foundry coke are selling as high as $10 50 at the ovens.

Sales in nearly all lines of pig iron are held up through the output being so much curtailed by the coke embargo. A lot of 1,000 tons of Bessemer for delivery next month, was sold at $24 at the valley furnaces.

Domestic foundry iron for prompt shipment is extremely scarce. It is being sought at $25 50 a ton for the No. 2 grade, while for prompt No. 1 foundry the price is $25 50. A car of prompt No. 2 foreign foundry iron recently brought $25 in this market.

Inactive In Several Lines.

The forge iron market is well supplied and the past week developed no transactions of importance. The price holds at about $21 50 a ton.

The steel market is quiet and domestic billets are offered cheaper at mill than the undesired imported product can be brought here. Small Bessemer billets are worth $28 at mill, heavy billets from $28 to $29, and basic open hearth, $28.

The rod market is inactive, with the price on Bessemer rods holding at $36.

Foreign ferro-manganese continues to sell at $52 for the ton.

Much bar iron is selling at $35 50 to $36 a ton, and many of the mills can take new business for delivery on short notice.

Skelp continues in fairly active demand even in the case of the narrow grooved iron skelp, the price of which is held at $1 95 to $2 00 for 100 pounds. Sheared iron skelp is selling at $2 10 to $2 15 and steel skelp at $1 90 to $2.

Tin iron bar there is a fairly active demand at $1 80 to $1 85 the 100 pounds.

The rail market is an active one, with the mills filled with business through next September, and some to the end of the year. Prices remain as follows: Twenty-eight dollars for 200 tons and upward, $30 for 100 tons, but less and $32 for less than carload lots; $38 for 50, 25 and 10-pound rails in less than carload lots; $50 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $45 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for the use of traction companies are $35 to $38 a ton.

Some Plate Sales.

Steel plates amounting to 12,000 tons were sold by Pittsburgh producers in the past seven days. The demand is not as active as it has been, and some of this business, taken for delivery early next year, was closed at $1 40 the 100 pounds.

Sales of about 7,000 tons of merchant steel bar were made by Pittsburgh producers in the week past at prices of $1 90 the 100 pounds for the Bessemer and $2 a ton higher for basic.

About 10,000 tons of structural material for delivery well into next year was sold by Pittsburgh makers in the week past. The base prices remain: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch $1 60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1 70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds. Steel hoops continue to sell at $1 90 for lots of 200 tons to $2 in lesser lots.

Crucible and the finer lines of merchant steel continue in strong demand. Prices are as follows: Tire steel, $2 15 to $2 25 for 100 pounds; spring steel, $2 25 to $2 35; toe calk, $2 30 to $2 40. On less than 2,000 tons of a size and not less than 1,000 tons, prices are subject to an additional 10 cents on the price for 60 pounds, and on less than 1,000 tons, 50 cents. Cold-rolled shafting quotations continue at 47 per cent off list in car and larger lots, and 42 per cent on less than carlots.

Better Outlook In Scrap.

The condition of the market in old materials is somewhat improved, not in a flood of new business but inquiries on heavy contracts for the first quarter of the new year. In this business prices will range about as follows: Heavy melting steel, $25 to $26 a ton; No. 1 cast scrap, $25 to $26; No. 1 wrought scrap, $21 50 to $22 50; old steel rails, $22; steel rails for rerolling, $24.

The reduced price on tin plate does not seem to bring out the business in the volume expected. The price is $3 60 the 100-pound box at mill.

The sheet trade is also dragging somewhat. The lower prices, ranging from $2 75 the 100 pounds for No. 28 guage, black sheets, in 500-bundle and larger business at the mill, still rule; prices on galvanized sheets range from $3 85 on the No. 28 guage.

Wire nails in carlots are $1 90 for 100 pounds; plain wire, $1 80, and barb wire, $2 20.

Hardware trade conditions continue much the same as last reported, the volume of business keeping up to a mark far in excess of the same period of last year, and general conditions continue very favorable for this state of affairs right along. There is continued activity and large sales in nails, wire, sheet steel, and other goods of this character, the sales in nails and wire doubtless due to contractors completely until better deliveries could be made.

The furnaces in the anthracite region which were laid off during the miners' strike are slowly resuming, a few have been blown in since the first of the month and others are being prepared for an early resumption of work.

General conditions in the iron trade continue favorable to manufacturers, despite the decidedly heavy. Inquiries for rails now in hand are large enough to cover the unsold capacity of the steel rail mills for next year. It is said not a mill in this country can promise delivery on new orders before December, and some are sold up beyond that. The plate mills are steadily settling delivery dates further in the future.

The September pig products was heavier in October than in any month since January and this month's business is keeping up with the October record. The supply of pig iron is still under consumption, and importations on old orders are quite large.

Business in foreign steel billets is almost at a standstill, not because of the duty question, but because buyers are trying to secure lower prices. Billets are quoted as high as can be imported, duty paid, at a shade better than $27 50, New York; but many consumers say the price is not low enough to enable them to compete with the finished products. The fact must be borne in mind that the reduction has not been made because of declining trade, but is a result of the greatly increased productive capacity. The consumption continues large.

Cranemen Are on Strike.

The cranemen in the Schoenberger plant of the American Steel & Wire Company went on strike yesterday afternoon, and as a result 250 men in the open-hearth department have been laid off. The cranemen have been receiving $3 40 a day, with one-fourth day's pay for an extra heat. The company wishes them to work on the tonnage plan, which the men claim would be all right if three furnaces could be kept working regularly and there were no accidents, but as things now stand it will be a reduction of 15 per cent in their wages.

Machinery Sales.

The Pittsburgh Machinery Company has sold the machinery in the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company, which has been dismantled, to the Pittsburgh Steel Company, for use in its new plant at Monessen.

The Pittsburgh Machinery Company has also sold the machinery in the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company, which has been dismantled, to the Pittsburgh Steel Company, for use in its new plant at Monessen.

The Pittsburgh Machinery Company has also sold the machinery in the plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company, which has been dismantled, to the Pittsburgh Steel Company, for use in its new plant at Monessen.

Tube Mill Orders.

The Pittsburgh Steel Company has received orders for 10,000 tons of steel skelp for the Monessen tube mill, and the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company has received orders for 5,000 tons of steel skelp for the same mill.

Hardware and Tube Prices.

Prices continue firm, in a general way, prospects being that owing to the factories being behind with orders, that this state of affairs will last into the new year and the new business coming along will then have a tendency to hold them up further, or to relegate them to somewhat. The Binsley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Wire nails, $1 90 in carlots; $2 base, in less than carlots; cut nails, $2 05 in carlots; $2 20 base, in less than carlots; plain galvanized wire, $2 55 in carlots; $2 75 base, in less than carlots; galvanized barbed wire, $2 55 in carlots; $2 65 in less than carlots. Other sizes usual advance. Coke tin plates, $3 90@$4 10; charcoal tin plates, $4 75@$5 25; terne plates, $5 25@$5 50; pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 50 per cent; Stevens shotguns and rifles, discount 25 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $9 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; window glass, discount 88 and 5 per cent, less than carloads, and 90 per cent in carloads; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2 70 for 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 per cent.

DISHEARTENED ABOUT SHORT COKE SUPPLY

Many Furnacemen Prefer to Blow Out Their Plants to Often Banking Them.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

Our monthly blast furnace statement reflects the disheartened feeling among furnacemen in the valleys, and the deliveries to the independent furnacemen in two weeks past have not been much above 50 per cent of their requirements, with only about half six of the merchant furnaces operating, and the worst of it is that there is no promise of relief unless the steel corporation, in return for the furnacemen accepting its pig iron order, agrees to increase the coke shipments to the independent pig iron people instead of taking nearly all the coke to its own stacks. The car shortage is felt at finishing mills and all around.

EAR CORN PRICES ARE SHADE EASIER

Apples in Heavy Receipt, but Quotations Fairly Steady. Lion Coffee Lower.

But one change was made in grain quotations yesterday, and that was in old ear corn, which declined about 1c the bushel, easier conditions being brought to pass by the increasing receipts of new ear corn, which will shortly be a considerable factor in the market. Old shelled corn is scarce, and prices are held steady by the scantiness of the offerings. New No. 2 yellow ear was offered by the month for 45c. Hay is held at spot quotations as have ruled all week, with receipts still hard to get at on account of railroad blockades, and the market is steady. Oats are steady, although some offerings were made yesterday at figures below the ruling market values.

The feature of interest in the grocery market was a decline of ½c in Lion package coffee, which was made yesterday morning. Up to the close of business, Arbuckles had not followed the decline, although it was expected they would meet the cut. Sugar is unchanged, but is dull and weak, buyers taking only sufficient for immediate wants, and showing no disposition to purchase for the future. Pitsburgh is still at same quotations as have ruled all week, the range for spring patent being from $4 05 to $4 15, with selling price actually about $4 10 in the majority of transactions.

Canned goods are firm, and dried fruits hold steady, with demand for prunes and evaporated peaches and apricots showing some increase. Holiday goods of all kinds are increasingly prominent, and inquiries are numerous for nearly everything of this nature.

Storage Room Needed.

There are still lots of apples in the market, and the question of storage room is the vexing question which dealers have to meet. Vacant warehouses have been in demand for several days, merchants renting them for short terms for the storage of the large arrivals of apples, while platforms near the depot are also being utilized. Quotations have held remarkably firm under the circumstances, the low grades of apples having declined somewhat perceptibly, and even this weakness has only been for occasional transactions, where round lots could be sold to make room for fancy stock. Potato receipts have not been so heavy, and the market is firm at 60c. Cabbage is plentiful and a little lower in price.

Butter and cheese are steady, and eggs are very firm. Really fresh eggs are scarce and in demand, and readily salable at top figures. Reports of unseasonably cold weather in the country have been made, and it may be some consignments will reach the city in the near future, made up worthy of recognition. Poultry is somewhat lower than last week, and turkeys have advanced 1c a pound for both live and dressed. If there is a continuance of the warm weather, dressed turkeys will be scarce, as farmers will not be able to dress and ship them after spoiling has set in. Chickens, also, should get cold there will be plentiful supplies, as there are enough turkeys in the country to take care of all demand if weather favors their shipment in market.

NO SENTIMENT FOR HIGH BRIDGES

An Old Riverman Says City's Interest Should Be Protected.

OLD ARGUMENTS USED

W. D. Kountz, a Former Navigator of the Allegheny River, Tells Why He Is Opposed to the Raising of the Bridges.

The "old riverman" sentiment which is being misdirected by the advocates of the elevating of the Allegheny bridges is not fooling many persons. The business interests of two wealthy cities are considered too important to be irretrievably damaged by the reconstruction of the bridges to satisfy the dream of a few enthusiasts.

The argument has been repeatedly advanced that the boatbuilders could erect their craft along lines which would allow them to pass under any bridge spanning the Allegheny, and the people who would be almost bankrupted financially and the thousands who would be placed at an inconvenience by the propositions of a few rivermen, insist that there is no reason why low boats could not be used in the future as in the past.

W. D. Kountz of Allegheny, an experienced riverman and one of the oldest navigators of the Allegheny river, has opinions of his own about high bridges. Mr. Kountz says:

"I have been requested to give my views on the bridges across the Allegheny river. My convictions on this subject are very possitive, as it is a matter that I have given a great deal of thought, without any desire to gain popularity as an old riverman. This 'old riverman' theory is something I don't think applies to this important subject. My opinion is that the Sixth and Seventh street bridges should be a standard of hight for all bridges across the Allegheny, for the same reason that the Sixth street bridge has been a standard for grades for many years.

"When the bridge was rebuilt the grade was raised to what was supposed by the best business brains in that line in the community to be as high as it could be without working great damage to real estate owners on both sides of the river and to change the grade at this time would be a great damage without any equivalent to justify it. I think I can say that a change of grade would be an injury to 100 persons where it would benefit one.

"I was engaged largely in steamboat transportation on the Allegheny river. The Allegheny river business was about played out by the building of the Allegheny Valley railroad. At that time I purchased the control of all the boats on the Allegheny and I therefore abandoned the trade after the opening of the Allegheny Valley road, there being no business left for the boat trade.

"We built our boats then to comply with the elevation of the bridges and get along very nicely. I was opposed at the time to the building of the Union bridge, not as an old riverman, but believing that it might be to the interest of a great commercial city to have a little more levy room than we then had below the bridges of the two rivers, but the Union bridge was built under a charter legally granted and should be protected against any loss to the stockholders. My opinion is that it would be a wise thing for the government to require the raising of the Union bridge, to the same elevation as the Point bridge, but at the government's expense.

HELD FOR BEER MONEY.

Thirsty Foreigners Tried to Get Ransom from Bill Collector.

As if refusing to pay their bill was not enough, several foreigners yesterday held a collector for ransom for an hour. Emanuel Lichenstein, employed by the McKeesport steam bakery, went to a boarding house in Fourth avenue to collect $9 60. He says that the boarders commanded him to give them money that they were dry and "broke." They had a can and seemed to think that Lichenstein would give up at once. This he refused to do, and the foreigners became angry and held him a prisoner, making all manner of demonstrations. They said he should stay until he produced.

After waiting about an hour the driver of the wagon that carried the collector to the house became anxious and investigated. The foreigners tried to corral him also, but he escaped and notified the police. Officers Kaufman and Simmons arrested seven of the kidnapers. Several others made their escape.

BUTCHERS' STRIKE NEAR END.

Nine Firms Have Signed Scale and Rest Are Tied Up.

The striking butchers held another meeting in Moorhead hall yesterday, when it was reported that indications were favorable for ending the strike. Nine firms have already signed the scale, and others are said to be tied up. Organizer Calvin Wyatt stated that he expected the remaining firms to request that a committee of local union No. 128 be called to open negotiations for a settlement.

The Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company of Herrs Island has closed its plant. Some of its salesmen are reported to have gone on strike in sympathy with the men.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

M. E. Church of Sewickley Arranging for Celebration on Sunday Next.

Extensive preparations are making by the officers of the Methodist Episcopal church of Sewickley for the celebration next Sunday of the 50th anniversary of the church's incorporation.

All the ministers, living, who have been identified with the church have been invited to be present and a number of them will deliver addresses. Interesting programs have been arranged. In the afternoon a Sunday school rally will take place and all the officers, teachers and pupils who have been connected with the school are expected to be present.

CROWD AT LYCEUM.

Live Topics Discussed at Meeting of Catholic Truth Society.

An audience that filled the chapel of the Cathedral Lyceum last night was entertained by a brilliant program at the first open meeting of the season of the Pittsburgh Catholic Truth society. The music was furnished by Miss Catherine Barrie, the Misses Shriver and Joseph Schmidt. A Lejal was the accompanist. "Some Phases of the Trust Question" was discussed by C. D. Gillespie. An interesting historical address was delivered by John Fogerty of the founding of the first Catholic church of Pittsburgh.

ST JAMES' CHURCH DEDICATES ORGAN

Carnegie's Gift to a West End Congregation Center of Excellent Musical Program.

A thousand grateful friends of Andrew Carnegie crowded the St. James church last night at the dedication of the first Carnegie organ in the West End.

In his address on "The Catholic Church and Music," the Rev. C. J. Coyne called attention to the important place that music had always occupied in the Catholic church. He pointed out that the organ was essentially the church instrument, as it was never used for the profane purposes.

The Rev. John Price of St. James thanked the donor on behalf of the congregation. He reminded his hearers that it was through the effort of John Hawkins, seconded by Robert A. Frank, Mr. Carnegie's cashier, that they had obtained the organ, and extended his acknowledgment to include these men.

Selections on the organ were rendered by H. J. Mangold of St. Peter and Paul's church, East Liberty; Victor N. Maucher of St. Michael's, South Side. The vocal numbers were a baritone solo, "Pro Peccatis," by David T. Moore, "Inflammatus," by Miss Louise Minick of the West End, and solos by the following members of the St. James choir: Mrs. T. P. Hershberger, Miss Margaret Hughes and J. E. Murray.

Samuel F. O'Brien, for nearly 20 years an agent of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society, yesterday tendered his resignation to the board of managers. The resignation was accepted and a resolution complimentary of Mr. O'Brien's faithful service was adopted, with many expressions of good will.

Osborne Company, $5; G. E. A., $5; Mrs. Nettie McKee Graham, $5; Mrs. S. S. Carrier, $2; E. Z. Smith, $2; Miss Paisley, $2; Mrs. C. J. May Be the Slashers.

Chief of Police McDonough of North Braddock yesterday arrested Joseph Hart, William Giant and John Edwards of Port Perry. The men are charged with being the perpetrators of the assault Tuesday morning on Coleman Connelly of Dewey station. Three men entered Connelly's house, demolished his furniture and robbed him of $28.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Of a New Catarrh Cure.

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really catarrh. Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

Wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for catarrh.

The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions, without having the remotest effect upon the blood and liver, which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases.

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system.

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with remarkable success as a genuine, radical cure for catarrh.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, large pleasant tasting lozenges, composed principally of antiseptic ingredients, Bloodroot, Red Gum and similar catarrh specifics.

Dr. Ainslee in speaking of the new catarrh cure says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon 30 or 40 patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectually and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen, and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates, and that even a little child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh, throat or bronchial trouble, catarrh of the stomach, liver or bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug.

That Insure Good Impressions.

Splendid Opportunities for People Who Want China

A great many people don't realize the variety and extent of our China stock. Only the other day one of the leading Pittsburgh bonifaces, a much traveled man, said in looking over the great display in the Basement, that he had yet to find in all his travels a more complete or more varied stock of China than the collection which we carry.

And this gentleman, from experience, also knew that the prices we name for every kind of China from the medium to the very highest grades, are lower than were ever named for fine China by any house in the city of Pittsburg.

Our stock is so large that it has overflown its original space in the Basement and division was compulsory, the finer Chinas and Cut Glass going to the 3d floor; but the bulk of the Dinner-ware China and the stock patterns as well as blown Table Glass Ware still crowds the Basement.

The near approach of the two festivals that come so close together, Thanksgiving and Christmas, brings the question of China and Cut Glass, as well as the more ordinary crystal, to the front.

Following are some of the possibilities in the Basement China Store:

Underpriced Dinner Sets.

$12.50 reduced from $16.50—112-piece sets of fine English Porcelain. Each piece trimmed in gold and the border decorations of a delightful delicate pink.

$19.50 reduced from $25—100-piece sets of French China. The handles of these sets are gold stippled and the decorations are in a pink floral design.

$37.50 reduced from $45—113-piece sets from the noted China pottery of Charles Field Haviland. All pieces are gold stippled and the decoration is a beautiful small rosebud.

$42.50 reduced from $50—113-piece sets of Haviland & Co.'s desirable Ransom shape. Neat and delicate floral decorations.

$50 reduced from $65—113-piece sets of Haviland China. Very pretty border decorations.

$65 reduced from $75—113-piece sets from the pottery of Theo. Haviland. Fine decorations and gold trimming.

Following are three very interesting items relating to the finest of French Dinner Sets. We used these sets as samples. They have served their purpose. There is not a blemish upon them. So any housecife desiring to have something really elegant for her table is invited to see these three numbers.

$150 reduced from $250—one extra fine English China Dinner set from the famous Crescent pottery of England. Each piece was festooned by hand and the work is done in enamel.

$225 reduced from $300—one extremely handsome Dinner set of finest French China from the pottery of Delenieres & Co., Limoges. The decorations are in elaborate flat gold with panels which were hand painted. Handles and knobs are trimmed in mat gold.

$250 reduced from $350—one extra fine Haviland Dinner set in richest cobalt blue and richest gold trimming. The pieces of this set are known as Persian shapes.

The following relates to the smaller ware for dinner and other services:

"THE BIG STORE"

Oriental Rug Sale!

Hotel Schenley

JAMES RILEY PROPRIETOR

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Nov. 10, 1902.

Mess. Kaufmann Brothers,

Pittsburg, Pa.

Gentlemen:—

Although we declined your offer this morning for our stock of Oriental Rugs and Carpets, for the reason, as we fully convinced you then, that your offer was much less than we paid for the goods ourselves, we have, upon reconsideration of the matter, decided to accept your offer, low as it is, in order to avoid the big risk and expense of repacking and reshipping so large and valuable a collection of rugs. The understanding is that the goods will be turned over to you at once, as the Hotel management has notified us that it needs the Ball Room for other purposes, and that we must vacate it no later than to-morrow.

In conclusion we desire to congratulate you on your good fortune in securing this rare collection of Antique Oriental Rugs, which required months to gather in the Orient, and at such a low price that you will be able to sell the goods for less money than they cost to import.

Very truly yours,

H. Michaelyan
